FORCES OF FRENCH AND BRITISH STILL LAND AT SALONIKI

Bulgaria and Turkey Becoming Uneasy, Again Make Protests to Greece.

ITALY WILL INTERVENE

Teutonic Allies Advancing Slowly Upon Serbs With Increased Difficulty.

London, Nov. 13.—The continued landing of Britsh and French troops at Saloniki is causing some uneasiness to Bulgaria and Turkey and the ministers of those two powers today again protested to the Greek government, which took formal notice of their protest. The determination of the Entente Allies in their Balkan campaign is shown by the large force they are sending to the Balkans, and news was received from Rome today that Italy also had decided to intervene in this region "in a manner worthy of her greatness," and to give sufficient support to the British and French to assure a complete triumph. This is said to have had some influence on Greece and Rumania. Rumania, however, is waiting for the developments of the Russian plans.

Invading More Difficult

Meanwhile the Austro-Germans and Bulgarians are advancing slowly in their efforts to cut off or annihilate the Serbian army. These efforts, however, are growing more difficult as the Serbians now have occupied, their report says, defensive positions to the south and east of Kralievo and east of Ivagnitza and on the western front on the left bank of the southern Morava where heavy fighting is in progress. Big battles also are proceeding in the south between the Bulgarians and the Anglo-French, but reports on these are conflicting.

Outside the Balkans the most important theatre of operations is now along the eastern front. In the north the Germans apparently have abandoned hope of reaching Riga and Dvinsk, at least until the ground freezes, and are falling back or being driven from the Dvina from which was their objective.

Russians Get 130,000 Prisoners.

In the south General Ivanoff has continued to harrass the invaders by repeated thrusts which, durjng the past five weeks, Petrograd reports, have brought him nearly 130,000 prisoners. In the most recent of these thrusts, the bag totalled six thousand, many of whom were Germans.

The Italians keep up their offensive on both the Trentino and Isonzo fronts and are making another effort to take Gorizia, which has withstood them for so long.

On the western front heavy artillery bombardments against are beginning in Artois, but with the present rain-soaked condition of the ground this can hardly presage another offensive.

RE-AFFIRMS PEACE TERMS

Grey Says Conditions Must Fulfill Those Laid Down by Asquith.

London, Nov. 12.—Re-affirmation of Premier Asquith's historic pledge regarding the Entente Allies' terms of peace delivered at the Lord Mayor's banquet November 9, 1914, was written by Sir Edward Grey, British foreign secretary today in a written answer to a question put by Sir Arthur Markham, liberal member of the parliament for the Mansfield division of Nottinghamshire.

After stating that Great Britain's position in the war is fixed by her alliances with Japan, France and Russia, the foreign secretary proceeds:

"In our view, the conditions fo peace must fulfill those laid down by the prime minister on November 9, 1914. It is very desirable that it should be understood once and for all that this is the determination of the government, collectively and individually, and of the nation."

At the Lord Mayor's banquet November 9, 1914," Premier Asquith in outlining the war situation said:

"This is going to be a long war but there is nothing in a long struggle to depress us, or in what has happened. Our enemy has tried three objectives—Paris, Warsaw and Calais—and has been baffled in all.

"That is not enough. We shall not sheathe the sword, which we have not lightly drawn, until Belgium has recovered more than she has sacrificed; until France is adequately secured against menace; until the rights of the smaller nationalities have been placed upon an unassailable foundation, and until the military domination of Prussia is finally destroyed."

ALBANIAN QUESTION ACUTE

Secret Agreement Between Bulgaria and Greece is Belief in Rome

Rome, via Paris, Nov. 12.—The Albanian question is becoming more acute hourly, the belief being expressed in diplomatic quarters that a secret agreement exists between Bulgaria and Greece concerning Serbia, Macedonia and Albania. According to this reported agreement the southern part of Albania would go to Greece and the northern part to Bulgaria, the latter country thus realizing its traditional dream of being bathed by three seas—the Black sea, the Aegean and the Adriatic.

The conviction is held by many that Italy must participate in the Balkan contest in order to safeguard her most vital interests represented by the supremacy of the Adriatic and the pos-

NOTHING DEFINITE HEARD ON ANCONA

Officials Under Impression Vessel Tried to Escape

DEATHS DUE TO PANIC

Reports Received Do Not State Names of Any Americans Known for Certain to Have Been Saved —Expected Today.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Still without definite information concerning the circumstance under which the Italian liner Ancona was sunk, State Department officials took no further steps today in the situation. It is believed details probably will reach here tomorrow. Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page's visit to the Italian foreign office is expected to develop at least whether the Ancona was torpedoed without warning or whether shots were fired at the vessel after she had stopped.

The impression is strong in official quarters based upon press dispatches, that the vessel tried to escape and that those of her passengers who were lost were drowned in the panic that ensued when she was halted.

Ambassador Page cabled today that Mrs. Cecile Criel, believed to be an American, was reported to have been saved, although her name still remained on the list of those unaccounted for. Other Americans said to be the list of lost were the Patattivo family, Pasquale Laurine and Mrs. Carmela Torrisi. Mrs. Torrisi's husband, Guiseppe, was said to have been among the rescued.

A Mrs. Cecil Greil was reported as the only American then known to be saved in a dispatch Wednesday night from Ambassador Page.

WOULD BLAME WILSON?

Says Ancona Tragedy Result of "Unpunished Lusitania Murder."

Paris, Nov. 12.—Commenting in the Figaro on the sinking of the Ancona, Joseph Reinach, widely known as a political writer, declares that the victims of this latest sea tragedy died as a result of "the unpunished Lusitania murder."

President Wilson could not sav. he adds, that he was not warned that the tragedy would be repeated "if it were not avenged."

DERNBERG ON U. S. NOTE.

Says It Opens Way for Securing Freedom of the Seas.

Berlin, via London, Nov. 12.—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, discussing in the Tageblatt the American note to Great Britain, says the note prepares the way for securing the freedom of the seas and thereby opens a new era of discussion with Great Britain, the result of which undoubtedly will be favorable to the right.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT WILL PROBE CHARGES

Of Alleged Activities of Austrian Consuls

Dr. Joseph Goricar Alleges They Have Been Active in Propaganda to Destroy Munitions Plants and Foment Strikes.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Published charges, attributed to Dr. Joseph Goricar, former Austro-Hungarian consul at San Francisco, that Austrian consuls in the United States, working under the direction of Consul General Von Naber and Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador here, are active in propaganda for destruction of munitions factories and fomenting strikes among the workers will be referred by the State Department to the Department of Justice for investigation.

The Austrian embassy here denounced Goricar's published statement as untrue in every particular and announced it would try to find some way to prosecute him for it. In substance Goricar is accredited with making the statement that he resigned his post after 15 years in the Austrian consular service because he declined to perform the work of a spy.

The Austro-Hungarian embassy issued the following statement:

"Ex-Consul Dr. Goricar, formerly at San Francisco, has been on leave of absence since the time of the outbreak of the war and has been temporarily attached for a time to the Austro-Hungarian consul general in Berlin, Germany. There, very soon after, he obtained knowledge that the Austro-Hungarian authorities had received information about his secret connections with the enemies of Austria-Hungary and evidently fearing detection he suddenly left his post without permission and disappeared."

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 12.—J .Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia, was re-elected president of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association at the closing session here today of the eighth annual convention. The 1916 meeting place was left to the executive committee. Other officers elected were: Vice presidents, J. H. Small, North Carolina; W. S. Bennett, New York; F. W. Donnelly, New Jersey; J. H. Preston, Maryland.

CONDITIONS MUCH BETTER IN MEXICO

Following Recognition of De Facto Government.

CARRANZA IS POPULAR

Situation in Mexico City Being Restored to Normal—Request to Transfer Former Villa Troops Over American Soil.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Mail reports to the State Department today from Piedras Negras said people arriving there from interior Mexico brought word of greatly improved conditions following the recognition of the Carranza de facto government. O. L. Wise, who has lived in Mexico City for 21 years, who discussed Mexican conditions with State Department officials today, spoke enthusiastically of the work of restoration now going on.

"People in Mexico City," he said, "used to have a hatred for General Carranza but now he is very popular. General Gonzales, military governor, has brought about wonders in the city and the people have confidence in him. The de facto government is not confiscating property, but is paying for everything it gets and the personal liberties and rights of Mexican citizens and of the foreign colony are being respected.

"Automobiles that had been hidden away are running about the streets again and without the flags of the nationality of their owners which heretofore was necessary for their protection. There are 5,000 Americans in Mexico City, practically all in commercial business. They have no complaint to make of the new government."

General Calles, Carranza commander at Agua Prieta, telegraphed the Mexican agency here tonight asking that the permission of the State Department be obtained for the transfer of 500 former Villa soldiers over American territory to Piedras Negras. They were granted amnesty and will be given sufficient money to pay their transportation home.

VILLA ARRIVES WITH MEN

Reaches Nogales Few Hours After Arrival of Carranza Commander.

Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 12.—Francisco Villa, chief opponent of the Carranza government in Mexico, arrived at Nogales, Sonora, opposite here tonight at the head of 2,000 troops a few hours after the arrival here of General Alvar Obergon, Carranza's military commander. General Obregon said that his presence at the same time with Villa was merely a coincidence.

The Carranza leader announced that he came here to influence the Indians now in General Urbaljo's Yaqui army, who formerly were under command of Obregon, to switch to the Carranza faction. He predicted that forces of the defacto government will be incomplete possession of the state of Sonora within 40 days.

Reports that General Villa had been offered amnesty were emphatically denied by General Obregon who declared that Villa would be treated as an outlaw if captured.

FLAGS MARK BOUNDARY

Action Taken After Villa Men Crossed American Boundary

Naco, Ariz., Nov. 21.—The boundary line between Mexico and the United States was marked at 50 yard intervals by American flags today. This action was taken after a Villa soldier escaping from Naco, Sonora, had been pursued by Villa cavalry across the boundary. Col. W. C. Brown, of the Tenth U. S. cavalry, on border patrol, arrived at the Mexican border to protest just as General JoseRodreguez, of the Villa forces, signalled to the firing squad that faced the prison.

It was explained that the man executed was wanted in connection with a shooting affray and that his pursuers were ignorant of the boundary line.

DOESN'T UNDERSTAND DELAY.

Cologne Paper Shys America Could Have Prevented U-Boat War.

Cologne, via London, Nov. 12.—The Koelnische Volks Zeitung says it is difficult to comprehend how the Washington government, filled with such convictions as are expressed in the American note to Great Britain, allowed 15 months to elapse without serious measures against British encroachments

"The United States," the paper adds, "did not even need to rattle the sword. A mere embargo upon the export of a few articles such as grain, copper, meat and cotton would instantly have brought Great Britain to terms and established American rights.

"If America had from the first energetically taken the position against Great Britain now adopted there would have been no submarine war, no sinking of the Lusitania or the Arabic. WillW ashington wait to see whether the war ends before Great Britain takes account of the American demands so ably pleaded? The essence of neutrality consists in applying the same law to both sides."

WILL INVESTIGATE FIRES

In Plants Making Munitions or Supplies For Belligerents

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 12.—State Fire Marshal Baldwin today detailed men to investigate fires that have occurred this week in plants engaged in manufacture of munitions or supplies for nations at war. One inspector was detailed to the Bethlehem Steel Works and another will go to the Eddystone branch of the Baldwin Locomotive Works where there was a slight fire the same day the Bethlehem Steel Company's machine shop was burned. Other inspectors have been active in Western and Central parts of the state where fires have occurred in powder and similar plants.

SERBS FALL BACK TO SAFE POSITIONS

Claim They Occupy Defensive Ground in the North.

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS

Germans Reported to Have Lost Heavily in Attacks in Northwest Russia—Asquith Grieved at Churchill's Resignation

Winston Spencer Churchill has given up his portfolio of chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster in the British cabinet and will join his regiment at the front. In his resignation, he expressed the belief that time would vindicate his administration of the admiralty and assign him his share in the responsibilities of preparations and operations "which secured us command of the seas."

Premier Asquith, in acknowledging the resolution, said he was sincerely grieved that Mr. Churchill felt it his duty to leave the cabinet.

The Serbians in the north are still in retreat before the Austro-Hungarians and Germans, having fallen back, according to their latest communication, to defensive positions south and east of Kralievo and to the east of Ivagnitza, which would indicate that the fears expressed in an Italian newspaper dispatch that they might be cut off are unfounded.

Nothing has come through to show the existing situation in the south, where the Anglo-French forces are cooperating with the Serbs against the Bulgarians or from the Montenegrin theatre, where the Austro-Hungarians and Montenegrins have been at grips for some time with varying successes.

Further successes for the Russians against the Germans in northwest Russia are recorded by Petrograd. The Germans lost heavily in the fighting around Kemmern, as also around Ixskull, where ten German attacks were repulsed.

Little fighting has been going on along the western front or in the Austro-Italian zone except by the artillery of the contending sides.

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German imperial chancelor, has told the socialists that the people of Germany could be assured that the hopes of the Entente Powers of starving Germany would be disappointed.

According to the semi-official Overseas News Agency of Berlin the Greek premier has influenced the Bulgarian minister at Athens that it is the premier's sincere desire that the friendly relations between Greece and Bulgaria be maintained. Greece, he added, was not preparing to attack Bulgaria.

Houston, Texas, Nov. 12. — In a statement from Port Arthur today Italian Consul Lombardo denied that Captain Rico of the Italian steamer Livietta had reported to him that the fire on the ship, now beached, was caused by incendiary bombs.

INTENDED TO ACQUIRE TRANSPORTATION LINE

Another Charge Against New Haven Officials.

Alleged by Government They Intended to Establish Freight Line From Boston to Galveston and Through Panama Canale.

New York, Nov. 12. — An alleged intent to monopolize, committed within the three year period of the statute of limitations, by former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, eleven of whom are now on trial charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law, was described to the jury today. The testimony adduced to prove it marked the second time thus far during the trial that the government's case has entered this vital period.

The alleged offense consisted of the approval by the board of directors in 1912 of a proposition to acquire "open control" of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company and to establish a freight line from Boston to Galveston and through the Panama Canal when it should be completed. While it was shown that the proposition was never carried into effect, because of the passage of legislation by Congress forbidding railroads to own steamship lines using the Panama Canal, the government's purpose in introducing the testimony was to show that the intent to monopolize the transportation traffic of New England nevertheless existed. All of the defendants, except Lewis Cass Ledyard and Edward D. Robbins, were recorded as present at the meeting at which the vote was taken, and correspondence read into the record appeared to indicate that Ledyard and Robbins were cognizant of the scheme.

The defense, on other hand, plans to show that the contemplated line was a benefit to the people of New England and was proposed to be established in response to a demand for such service.

The government attorneys later swung into what may prove one of the most interesting phases of the trial—the collapse of the Morse enterprise after the panic of 1907, and the transactions by which it is alleged Edward D. Robbins, general counsel of the New Haven, obtained possession of two of the Morse steamers, the Harvard and the Yale, and had them transferred to the Pacific coast.

TAKES BIG BLOCK OF CAMBRIA STEEL

J. L. Replogle Pays $15,000,000 for 300,000 Shares.

FORMERLY WATER BOY

Bid Against His Old Superior Officer in the Cambria Steel Mills—Stock Was Held By Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

New York, Nov. 12.—Three hundred thousand shares of stock, or thereabouts, in the Cambria Steel Company, were bought today for approximately $15,000,000 by J. Leonard Replogle, of this city, who started his business career when 11 years old as a water boy at less than $5 a week in the Cambria mills at Johnstown, Pa. Mr. Replogle, who is 38 years old, bid against his old superior officer, William H. Donner, and won the stock after negotiations in Philadelphia lasting all day and virtually all night for several days and nights. The stock was sold by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which formerly owned 450,820 shares of the 900,000 issued—a controling interest in the Cambria company.

Of the railroad's original 51 per cent. holdings of Cambria Steel, Mr. Donner already had acquired about 112,000 shares. This was secured in two lots, one of 56,000 on which he had an option, and the other, of the same amount, on which he exercised a conditional option. The condition was that he should find a purchaser for the railroad's holdings of Pennsylvania Steel stock. Mr. Donner is president of both the Cambria and Pennsylvania Steel companies.

Charles M. Schwab, the genius of Bethlehem Steel, wanted the Pennsylvania Steel properties, it was reported, to combine them with his Bethlehem plant and thus the neucleus of another gigantic steel merger. Mr. Donner's interests crossed with this plan and Mr. Donner won in the quest for the Pennsylvania Steel stock. He then tried, it is said, to obtain the remaining Cambria stock ownad by the railroad.

Three weeks ago Mr. Replogle, who resigned as vice president of the Cambria company March 1, began negotiations for the purchase of the remaining Cambria stock held by the railroad. During the 27 years he was with the Cambria company he rose from waterboy to occupy almost every position successively in line to the vice-presidency.

In the meantime, however, the Pennsylvania railroad sold some of the Cambria in the open market, at a time when it was at the crest of its recent rise.

Negotiations begun for the purchase of the remainder ended today in the transfer of the stock to Mr. Replogle. So far as is known Mr. Replogle is the largest single stock owner. Whether a fight for control will develop is to be seen. What is to be done with the Cambria property under Mr. Replogle's management, if he obtains sufficient additional stock to give him control, is yet to be divulged.

"TRUSTY" GIVEN 20 YEARS.

For Burglarizing Home of Associate Justice Hoke.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 12.—The Wake Superior court, Judge Peebles presiding, finished its work for the term today, quite a number of penitentiary and county road sentences having been imposed. The longest term in the penitentiary was for Horace Jones, who was given 20 years for entering the home of Associate Justice Hoke, of the Supreme Court, while the family was at supper and stealing a quantity of jewelry and other valuables. Jones was at the time a "trusty" at the county convict camp near the Hoke home, and he is believed to have committed a number of other burglaries while enjoying the privileges of a "trusty."

GIVEN RANK OF MONSIGNOR.

Very Rev. James T. O'Farrell Honored by Pope Benedict.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13.—Very Rev. James T. O'Farrell, vicar general of the diocese of Richmond, has been raised to the dignity of domestic prelate of the papal household, with the rank of monsignor, this being announced in a brief message received by Bishop O'Connell from Pope Benedict under date of October 16.

The office implies the right of wearing the purple, also of taking precedence over all priests at church ceremonies, whether within the diocese or even in the city of Rome.

Although now entitled to monsignor as his title, the ceremony of investment in the cathedral here will not take place until a later date.

WOULD PROHIBIT NARCOTICS

Refusal to Endorse Law Permitting Sale in Medicines.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—The delegates to the sixth annual convention of the American Association for the Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality at their session here today adopted a resolution refusing to endorse any law the effect of which will continue the sale of narcotics in any medicine. Recent legislation in many states, purporting to regulate the traffic in narcotic and habit-forming drugs, in reality, it was said, exempts preparations containing such drugs in small quantities.

Columbiaville, Mich., Nov. 12. — Robbers wrecked the safe in the Columbiaville State Bank early today, secured $4,000 in cash and made their escape. Heavy rain obliterated their tracks.

PROHIBITION BILL WINS IN GEORGIA

House Passes Bill Previously Passed by Senate

EFFECTIVE MAY 1, 1916

Prohibits Manufacture and Sale of Drinks Containing Over One-Half Per Cent Alcohol—Governor Likely to Sign.

Atlanta, Nov. 12.—The lower house of the Georgia Legislature by 142 to 22 tonight passed a bill which already had passed the senate, to prohibit the manufacture or sale of liquor in Georgia. The only change the house made was that the measure should become effective May 1, 1916, instead of January 1 next. It defines "liquor" as any drink containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol. It is generally understood that Governor Harris will sign it.

Advocates declare the bill will eliminate all breweries, so-called "near beer" saloons and "locker clubs," now operating under laws which allow the manufacture and sale of drinks containing not more than 4 per cent alcohol.

The senate also has passed bills to prohibit liquor advertisements and to limit the amount of liquor each individual may have shipped to him from without the state. These are to come before the house next.

The legislature met in special session November 3, at the call of Governor Harris, to pass the annual appropriation bill which failed of passage at the last regular session because of a fight over prohibition. Prohibition and several other subjects were included in the governor's call.

VIOLATED PROHIBITION LAWS

Over $5,000 Worth of Whiskey Seized on Schooner at Mobile.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 12. — Whiskey valued at more than $5,000 was seized here early today by the police and now is stored at the central station. The liquor, which came from New Orleans, on the schooner Oyster Plant, was consigned to four Mobile men whose names were not disclosed by the police. Emile Lyons, mate of the schooner, who with two negroes, had wagons at the ship side in which to haul the liquor away, are at the police station charged with violation of the recently enacted prohibition laws. The new law as construed by Recorder D. H. Edington prohibits the bringing into Mobile of liquors by any boat. Yesterday 11,712 bottles of beer from Pensacola, Fla., were seized under this ruling. All such liquor wil be destroyed after disposal by the courts of cases connected therewith.

William Thompson, captain of the Oyster Plant, later was arrested charger with violating the liquor laws. He and Lyons gave bond at $500 each.

CHURCHILL TO ENLIST WITH ARMY IN FRANCE

Quits Post in Cabinet Because of Inactivity.

Says He Couldn't Accept Position of General Responsibility for War Policy Without Effective Share In Guiding It

London, Nov. 12.—It is officially announced that Winston Spencer Churchill, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, has resigned from the cabinet and will join the army in France. Mr. Churchill, in his letter of resignation, explains that he agrees in the formation of a small war council, and appreciates the intention which Premier Asquith expressed to include him among its members.

He foresaw the difficulties that the premier would have to face in its composition, he states, and makes no complaint because the scheme was changed but with that change his work in the government naturally closed. He says he could not accept a position of general responsibility for a war policy without any effective share in its guidance and control and did not feel able in times like these to remain in well paid inactivity.

Rumors had been current for some time that Mr. Churchill would resign his seat in the cabinet and go out on active service at the front. He is a major in the Oxford Yeomanry.

Mr. Churchill was serving as first lord of the admiralty when the war began and filled that office until the formation of the coalition cabinet last May. He took the position of Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster in the new cabinet, Arthur J. Balfour being made first lord of the admiralty.

Although it had often been reported that Mr. Churchill would retire from the cabinet, his resignation came as a surprise, as with the retirement of Sir Edward Carson from the office of attorney general, it was thought that all cabinet differences had been composed and that the remaining members were contented with the arrangements made for the formation of a small committee to control the war. It appears, however, from Mr. Churchill's letter of resignation to Premier Asquith that the former previously had been offered a place on this com-

MERCHANT MARINE FOR U. S. IS URGED

At Meeting of Academy on Political Science.

THREE SENATORS SPEAK

Senator Weeks Advocates Its Creation by Subsidies—Senator Fletcher Urges Need of 400 Auxiliary Ships for Navy.

New York, Nov. 12.—Assertions that in the event of future foreign wars exportation from the United States would virtually cease and that only the superior British and French navies enable exportation to continue in spite of the present European conflict, were made at the meeting of the Academy on Political Science tonight as arguments for the upholding of the American merchant marine. United States Senators Fletcher, of Florida; Weeks, of Massachusetts, and Owen, of Oklahoma, were the speakers.

Senator Weeks pointed out that this country now pays to foreign ship-owners $300,000,000 annually to transport American products abroad. The creation of a merchant marine by subsidies, he asserted, would increase industry in this country and give employment to probably 500,000 workman.

"We should follow the practice of all other nations," said the speaker, "which has resulted in the development of shipping by giving sufficient aid to overcome the difference in costs which stand as a handicap against our shipping. Such aid should only apply in cases where the operation can not be conducted profitably and only continue as long as that condition prevails. such aid being based on the service performed either in carrying mails or furnishing ships for auxiliary purposes.

"Any governmental operation which places government owned or controlled ships in competition with privately owned and operated ships should not be countenanced. As the navy needs auxiliaries even more than any other facility, any measures taken to increase its efficiency should give first consideration and and be influenced by the development of a merchant marine."

For Government Ownership.

The necessity of providing at least 400 auxiliary ships for the navy as an arm of the national defense was argued by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida, as justification in itself for the enactment of a bill for the government ownership of merchant ships. Senator Fletcher had charge of the government ship purchase bill in the Senate last session and his words were listened to as indicative plans for enacting the measure into law at the coming session.

"Last january when the ship purchase bill was before the Senate, I pointed out that Great Britain, with all of its naval establishment, had found it necessary to commandeer about 1,500 merchant vessels during the present war," said the senator. "I pointed out our need of naval auxiliaries. The need grows on us. The government is compelled to build and acquire ships to meet the necessities of the navy. Navy anxiliaries are a certain and controlling need. These auxiliaries can be constructed so as to serve commerce in time of peace and be made ready to serve the navy in time of threatened or actual war. It is an arm of hte national defense which must be developed and made serviceable."

Private control of transportation may serve the purpose today and tomorrow may join foreign combinations in utter disregard of both investors and the public, he continued to say.

"We must be free from foreign domination," he added, 'I do not know how this can be secured except by governmental control, in view of the great lead that the merchant marines of other countries have secured."

The shipping laws enacted since 1912 were pronounced as the first aid given American shipping in years. He defended the terms of the Seaman's law, which went into effect eight days ago, adding that he thought it would be found that the strongest objections to the act on he Alantic coast came from foreign shipping interests. The Senator denounced the action of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company officials in abadoning their trans-Pacific service on the ground of the Seaman's Law and then transferring their ships to another ocean where the same law applies with equal force.

Demand for Tonnage Increasing.

The commercial demand for more tonnage is increasing as the months roll by, the senator pointed out.

"There is no doubt we have suffered many millions of dollars during the past year in loss of trade and commerce, and in burdensome freight rates," he said. "The rate on grain to Liverpool is 40 cents a bushel, while before the war it was 4 cents. The rates on flour has gone from 12 to 65 cents a hundred pounds. On provisions the rate is increased from $5 a ton to $1 a hundred pounds. On cotton the rate is $1.25, when formerly it was 20 cents a hundred pounds. Eastern railroad terminals are congested, ddue to lack of ships. Freight continues to pile up at the ports. No law controls ocean rates. We may expect to pay foreign ship owners their own price, and that price will be higher yet. Freight embargo is on at Galveston and threatened in New York. Our markets can be restricted or eliminated without resort to import laws—control of the means of transportation is sufficient. The welfare of our producers is in peril, the necessary equipment of the nation itself is incomplete when we are dependent on foreign vessels to reach markets."

Subsidy had been a failure, the senator declared, and the mere use of the

DAIJOSAI FESTIVAL IN KIOTO HAS COMMENCED

One of the Three Great Rites of Coronation

New Emperor Offers the First Crop of the First Harvest of Rice to the Imperial Ancestors, Gods and Goddesses.

Kioto, Nov. 12.—The Daijosai Festival, or Grand Thanksgiving Festival, the ceremony of offering sacred rice to the imperial ancestors and the gods and goddesses of heaven and earth, began today at the imperial palace. This ceremony is one of the three great rites of the coronation and is of very ancient origin.

When Ninigino-mikoto, the grandson of the Sun Goddess, Amaterasu Omikami, founder of the Japanese imperial dynasty, descended from the heavenly domain, as it is traditionally told, to Mount Takachiho, in Kyushu, and established imperial handquarters there, he sowed the seeds of rice plants and presented the first crop to the Sun Goddess before himself tasting the food. This was the very beginning of the Daijosai festival.

Rice constitutes the most important daily food of the Japanese people, and the land was, in the mythological period, called the Land of Sacred Rice. Since that time the ceremony is observed as an essential function by every ruler who succeeds to the throne. The rite was ordained by an imperial edict issued by Emperor Mutsuhito in 1871, three years after his late Majesty's succession.

The central idea is that the new Emperor, invested with the suzerainty of the Land of the Sacred Rice, offers to the imperial ancestors and the gods and goddesses of heaven and earth the first crop of the first harvest in his reign. It is, therefore, observed as a state ceremony and not as a court ceremony.

Related to it is a ceremony of minor importance, which is annually held in the imperial court on November 23 and simultaneously at the grand shrines at Ise. It is called the harvest festival. As the rice on which sixty millions of the subjects of the imperial house sustain their lives had been granted by the imperial ancestor, as related above, every sovereign of the land expresses his thanks for the benevolence of the imperial ancestor in behalf of his millions of subjects.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED

Mob of Masked Men Take Him From Jail—Fired at Deputy.

Aberdeen, Miss., Nov. 12—John Taylor, a negro, charged with having fired at a deputy sheriff while the latter was attempting to arrest another negro who had taken refuge on Taylor's farm last Tuesday, was taken from jail here last night by a mob of masked men and lynched. His body was found today swinging from a bridge two miles south of here.

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Wilson today issued an order authorizing Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff, of the army, "to perform the duties of Secretary of War during the illness or temporary absence from the seat of government of the Secretary of War, whenever during such illness or absence the assistant secretary of war is also absent."

PRESBYTERIANS' WORK FOR THE YEAR PLANNED

By General Home Mission Committee of the Synod.

Important Meeting Just Held at Sanford—Dr. J. M. Wells and Col. Walker Taylor, of Wilmington, Among Members.

(Special Star Correspondent.)

Sanford, N. C., Nov. 12.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the general home mission committee of the Synod of North Carolina was held at Sanford, Thursday afternoon, with the chairman and superintendent, Rev. A. W. Crawford, and seven ministers and five elders from different parts of the State: Rev. Messrs. H. G. Hill, D. D., of Maxton; R. A. Miller, Lowell; J. M. Wells, D. D., Wilmington; William Black, Leonard Gill, Charlotte; Letcher Smith, Fayetteville; S. M. Rankin, Greensboro, and ruling elders: W. H. Belk, Charlotte; James R. Young, Raleigh; Col. Walker Taylor, Wilmington; A. F. Patterson, Laurel Hill, and J. H. Kennedy, Gastonia.

Encouraged by the unusual results of the year just closed, in which there were more professions of faith and additions to the church than any previous year in the history of the work and in view of the great opening upon every hand throughout the State, the committee after live and careful deliberation took steps toward a great forward movement in the advancement of the work.

The committee gave special attention to its financial problems.

Among the actions taken were: 1. The third Sunday in January was directed to be observed throughout the churches and Sabbath schools of the Synod as "Rally Day" for Synod's home mission work, and the chairman of home missions, elders and Presbyterial evangelists in their respective Presbyteries were instructed to divide the territory among themselves, and furnish the churches with literature, and personally present the work and hold conferences with the officers and church members. 2. A publicity committee was appointed to get great and striking facts of the work before the people. 3. It was resolved to pay all workers in the field on the first of each month, and a financial committee was asked to assist the treasurer in matters of finance. 4. The committee action heartily endorsing the movement among the presbyteries towards securing an evangelist in each presbytery.

For all departments of home mission work in the State for the year closing with Synod, including the work of the congregations, the presbyteries and the Synod, there was expended $74,111.00.

NEW YORK HERALD AIMS TO DEFEAT MR. KITCHIN

Predicts That He Will Have "Serious Opposition" in '16

Says He Should Resign as Majority Leader of the House Because He Doesn't Agree With President's Policy.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—Predicting that he will have "serious opposition" for Congress next year and that he should resign as majority leader of the coming Congress because he does not agree with President Wilson on his National Defense programme, the New York Herald, published in New York and Paris and with a decided leaning for the Allies and everything Republican, has started out to beat Claude Kitchin for Congress next year.

In a column story in today's issue, The Herald gives a yelp about Kitchin's disagreement with the administration that could be heard from New York to London if such a thing were possible. It is significant that the President's National defense policy is about the only thing advocated by the present administration that has pleased the Herald. In all other propositions advocated by the administration the Herald has been pleased to oppose and delighted when Democratic leaders disagreed with Mr. Wilson.

According to the Herald's story, George W. Connor, of Wilson, and N. J. Rouse, of Kinston, will oppose Mr. Kitchin for Congress next year, chiefly because Kitchin is not willing to vote for a proposition that will commit this country to the greatest military system known to the world.

The Herald says that "getting out of line with his party organization is more or less of a favorite pastime of Mr. Kitchin. There is a past in North Carolina which sheds a little light on the present attitude."

If Kitchin has ever voted against his party platform no one in Washington has heard about it. P. R. A.

GONDOS BROTHERS CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTED EXTORTION

Held Yesterday by Grand Jury Under $10,000 Bail Each

New York, Nov. 12.—Alexander and Victor Gondos, editor and publisher, respectively, of the Bridgeport Daily News, were held for the grand jury in bail of $10,000 each today, after the charge of extorting $2,000 from Julius Pernitzer, president of the Trans-Atlantic Trust Company, of this city, was reduced to one of attempted extortion.

Pernitzer testified that the Gondos brothers called upon him and produced a plan written in Hungarian, of a campaign to be made against the trust company. One section of the plan translated read: "The money for the Fay bomb plot was sent from Germany through the Trans-Atlantic Trust Co."

Still another declared: "The Trans-Atlantic Trust Company represents here a policy of inducing immigrants to return home." Pernitzer denied that he knew Fay or his alleged plot.

The Fay referred to is Robert Fay, claiming to be a lieutenant of the German army, who, with four others, is held on a charge of attempting to blow up munition ships.

INFLUENCE OF CHINESE COST DR. GARDNER HIS POSITION

Charge Following Resignation as Inspector and Interpreter.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—Dr. John E. Gardner, Chinese inspector and interpreter at this port for thirty-two years, whose resignation yesterday was offered and accepted at Washington, charged today that the influence of Wong Doo King, a powerful Chinese recently deported, cost him his position. Dr. Gardner resigned rather than accept transfer to Gloucester, N. J., which he said, is an unimportant post.

"The boast was made by Chinese a year ago that I would be demoted or transferred for my work in the Wong Doo King case," Dr. Gardner said today. "Six weeks ago a Chinese told me I could avoid demotion by lending money to the wife of an immigration official."

When Dr. Gardner's transfer was ordered, a telegram asking its revocation was sent to Washington, signed by heads of various departments here and by Federal judges, he said.

Wong Doo King, a leader among Chinese, and said to have been the head of the Bing Kong Tong, fought deportation for years. His power was said to match that of the great Chinese Six companies.

HORSE SHOW CLOSES.

Absence of Foreign Exhibitors Detracted Somewhat from Show.

New York, Nov. 12.—The 1915 horse show ended tonight with the jumping contest for United States army officers' horses. The absence of foreign exhibitors detracted somewhat from the show, but the interest of American exhibitors was as keen as formerly.

Miss Loula Long, of Kansas City, proved one of the surprises of the National exhibit. With 25 entries of various classes she won 15 ribbons and cups. One of her last victories was with Revelation, when she won the Baudouine cup for horses driven to phaetons, ladies driving.

VANDERBILT VS. AUBURN BIG CONTEST OF SOUTH

Result of the Game May Decide Premiership.

Carolina and Davidson Will Meet Today at Winston-Salem, Both Having Practically Equal Chance for Honors—Other Games.

Atlanta, Nov. 12.—The Vanderbilt-Auburn contest at Birmingham will furnish the big Southern football game tomorrow. Neither team has been scored on by teams in the old Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association territory, making probably one of the hardest games in the South this season.

The Georgia-Georgia Tech contest here is also attracting attention though interest largely is local. Georgia was eliminated from the championship race by Auburn, while Tech is still underrated. Should Georgia win, as is thought probable, Tech would be out of the championship race, leaving the result of the Vanderbilt-Auburn contest to decide the premier team of the old S. I. A. A. territory. All four of the teams are expected to go into tomorrow's games minus one or more regulars.

Auburn will be without Hairston and possibly Caughman; Vanderbilt without Fullback Wiggs, ineligible because of his studies. Captain Cohen, who was hurt in the Virginia game, also may be out. Garmany, the big Georgia guard, will be out of the line-up, and Captain Morrison, of Tech cannot play because of injuries, it is reported.

Several shifts have been made in the Vanderbilt line-up this week as the result of injuries in the Virginia game and the ineligibility of Wiggs. Quarterback Curry, who was thought to be out for at least a week, will be able to play. Roach, whose collar bone was broken in the Cumberland game early in the season, has recovered and will be held in reserve to relieve Curry.

Georgia and Georgia Tech always put up their hardest games against one another. The Tech line-up is expected to be the same as in the Alabama game a week ago with the exception of Captain Morrison, who is nursing a torn shoulder muscle. Johnston will take Morrison's place and Fielder will be acting captain.

Washington and Lee appear due for a defeat at the hands of Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y.

Virginia meets South Carolina at Columbia and is expected to win without effort.

On their records for the season there is little to choose between North Carolina and Davidson which meet at Winston-Salem, N. C.

The North Carolina Aggies and Georgetown are scheduled for a hard contest at Washington. The Aggies started badly but recently have been playing a good game.

Tennessee, after a two weeks' rest after the Vanderbilt game in which a number of players were badly injured, will play the Mississippi Aggies at Knoxville. Tennessee, on past performances, seems the better team, although there has been little information given out recently as to whether the injured players have rounded into shape.

Mississippi and Mississippi College met at Jackson.

Other games include: Sewanee at Chattanooga; Clemson vs V. M. I., at Richmond; V. P. I. vs West Virginia, at Morgantown, W. Va.; William and Mary vs Randolph-Macon, at Williamsburg, Va.; Florida vs Citadel, at Gainesville, Fla.

Liverpool, Nov. 12.—Robert Woolfenden, head of Woolfenden, Thompson & Company, cotton merchants, died here today. Mr. Woolfenden was formerly in the cotton business in Memphis, Galveston and New York.

SEVERAL ELEVENS TO HAVE FINAL TRY-OUT

Another History-Making Series on Gridiron Today.

Princeton and Yale to Clash With Big Odds Favoring the Tigers—A. & M. Plays Georgetown—Many Important Games.

New York, Nov. 12.—Another series of football history-making contests is set for eastern gridirons tomorrow. In several cases it will be the final opportunity for competing elevens to fix their status for the season of 1915. Princeton will close its pursuit of pigskin glory with the battle against Yale, and Michigan, in playing Pennsylvania, writes "finis" after its record. Other games of importance include: Harvard vs. Brown, Syracuse vs. Colgate, Cornell vs. Washington and Lee, and Dartmouth vs. Bates.

New Haven will be the mecca of the football faithful and while the Tiger is generally favored to defeat the Bulldog, interest in the contest is exceedingly keen since many look for a sensational last trench stand on the part of the Blue that may upset the season's form. There is nothing in the record of the present Yale eleven, however, to indicate that it will be able to overthrow its rival from Princeton.

Except for Harvard, the Nassau team has triumphed over all the combinations faced this fall, many of them of more than ordinary football prowess. Yale, on the other hand, has fallen an easy prey for college elevens which in past years were hardly able to furnish the Elis with warming up exercise.

Considered solely on the showing made to date by the rival elevens, Princeton should rank an overwhelming favorite. It is generally believed that Princeton did not uncover the full power of its attack in the game with Harvard. The majority of her offensive plays were of the simplest character and it is reasonable to suppose that Coach Rush has not dropped the type of open-play which his teams in the Middle West used so successfully. One report is that the Tigers have more than twenty varieties of the forward pass which they will use against Yale.

Unless the New Haven squad has improved wonderfully under the coaching of Shevlin during the past two weeks, the Eli eleven is poorly equipped to oppose the Tiger attacks. Unless Shevlin and his assistants have worked an eleventh-hour bridiron miracle by instilling fighting spirit, complete co-operation in attack, defense and itnerference and developed a coherent plan of campaign the Yale cause appears almost helpless. For the Blue to arise and defeat Princeton tomorrow would be the most sensational form upset of the football year it must not be forgotten, however, that the Yale squad contains considerable high class material and has more than once defeated Princeton when the Tiger appeared to have the annual gridiron championship safely locked in the Nassau trophy room.

Harvard is not expected to send her strongest team against Brown and for that reason the contest is likely to be close and interesting. A year ago, after defeating Princeton 20 to 0, the Crimson, with an eleven composed partly of substitutes, was held to a scoreless tie by Brown. A week later Harvard with her full strength on the field, swept Yale off its feet by a 36 to 0 defeat. If the Cambridge clan were to send its best team against Brown which won from Yale last Saturday 3 to 0, it would furnish ground for comparing the strength and ability of the Blue and Crimson.

Cornell faces a strong Southern team in Washington and Lee, which has made an excellent record this fall but there appears to be little chance that the players from below the Mason and Dixon line will be able to check the victorious football career of Cornell.

While these two teams are locked in combat at Ithaca, Colgate and Syracuse will be indulging in a battle royal at Syracuse. The two up-state elevens are among the most powerful in the East and appear to be quite evenly matched.

The Navy will play Colby which has shown flashes of strong football this autumn, while the Army has Maine University as an opponent.

At Philadelphia the elevens of Michigan and Pennsylvania will play their annual inter-sectional contest and the result is likely to be in doubt until the final moments of the game. Neither team is of exceptional calibre this year.

Other important games include: Amherst at Williams, Bates at Dartmouth, Dickinson at Carlisle, Penn State at Lafayette, Wesleyan at New York University, Villa Nova at Swarthmore, Washington and Jefferson at West Virginia Wesleyan, Carnegie at Pittsburgh, North Carolina A. & M. at Georgetown, Rutgers vs. All-Stars at New York, Andover at Exeter.

In the West Chicago, with a clear record of victories, clashes with Minnesota in the most important of the big nine games, while Wisconsin and Illinois will struggle at Champaign. Other important games in the West are: Wisconsin at Illinois, Nebraska at Kansas, Notre Dame at Creighton, Drake at Missouri, Oklahoma at Arkansas, Washington at St. Louis, Ames at Iowa, Indiana at Northwestern, Purdue at Kentucky, Oberlin at Ohio State, Wittenberg at Cincinnati, Case at Wooster, Mount Union at Western Reserve, Miami at Ohio University, Rose Poly at Depauw, Wabash at Earlham, Hillsdale at Adrian, Albion at Kalamazoo, Alma at Olivett.

GEORGETOWN VS. N. C. A. & M.

All Regular Players Probably Will Be in the Game.

Washington, Nov. 12. — Georgetown tomorrow meets North Carolina Aggies here in a game that is expected to have an important bearing on the South Atlantic football championship. Both teams have defeated the navy, the locals 9 to 0 and the Aggies by a 13 to 12 score. Coaches of both reported tonight that all of their regulars probably would be in condition. Gilroy, left half back and star of the Georgetown eleven, injured recently, will be in the game and Georgetown followers expect his ground gaining ability to be the deciding factor in their favor.

READY FOR ANNUAL CLASH

Vanderbilt-Auburn Game May Decide Southern Championship.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 12.—With both teams resting in hotels here tonight all is in readiness for the annual clash between Auburn and Vanderbilt on Rickwood field tomorrow in a game which will probably decide the championship of the S. I. A. A.

With the arrival of the Vanderbilt tea ma report which had excited much interest among local followers of Auburn was exploded. It had been published here that Wiggs, the star commodore fullback, had been declared ineligible by the faculty and would not play.

"This report is unfounded," said McGugin tonight, who added,that his squad was in fine shape, with the exception of Captain Cohen, who is still suffering from injuries received in the Virginia game.

Mike Donahue, Auburn coach, was reticent tonight. "We'll be there," was his brief comment. Indications are for ideal weather.

KAISER WINS OVER HARNFORD.

In Wrestling Match in Raleigh Auditorium Last Night.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 12.—Charles Kaiser, of Raleigh, was pitted against Prof. Robert Harnford, of Charlottesville, Va., tonight in a wrestling match and was the winner. Harnford was advertised as being connected with the physical culture department of the University of Virginia. However, it developed tonight that he only has some of the students for lessons in a private wrestling school.

Kaiser threw Harnford in both rounds. The first was 26½ minutes, the "swinging circle" hold being used. The second round was 15 minutes, with the "crotch and bar" hold. The match was staged in the city auditorium with a couple of hundred spectators.

ITALIAN GOT BUT ONE FALL

Fritz Hanson's Shoulders Went to Mat But Once in An Hour's Round With Big Opponent.

Leo Pardello, the Italian heavyweight wrestling champion, lost his handicap match with Fritz Hanson at Woolvin Hall last evening, getting only one fall out of an hour's work. In order to win the match, Pardello was to have thrown the local welterweight three times in 60 minutes.

From the standpoint of interest, the match was one of the best seen here. Working against a handicap of 64 pounds weight, Hanson displayed his wonderful ability to splendid advantage dividing the aggressive work equally with the big Italian and several times maneuvering his heavy opponent into positions dangerously near a fall, and from which nothing but the visitor's weight and bulk saved him.

Pardello weighed in at 218, while Hanson entered the ring at 154. The first fall went to Pardello at the end of 40 minutes of hard work, during which time Hanson on several occasions almost had a fall.

At the end of 30 minutes Pardello secured a hammerlock, and the fans were sure that Fritz would have to give in under its punishment, but they were very much mistaken, for the game little Swede came out of it in wonderful burst of strength. The effort seemed to tire him somewhat, though, and at the end of another ten minutes the big Italian secured his first and only fall, using a headlock and scissors bar.

The men entered the ring again after a ten-minute intermission, Hanson seemingly as fresh as ever, and the remaining 20 minutes of the hour went without a fall. Hanson apparently was never in a tight place during this time, and for the last ten minutes he was on the aggressive all the while, his opponent working hard but forced to take the defensive.

After the match was over Pardello made a short talk, declaring Hanson the best man of his size and weight that he had ever wrestled. Pardello claimed for himself that an injured leg kept him from doing his best work, but admitted frankly that had he been in the best of condition he would never have been able to down Hanson three times in an hour. He challenged Hanson to meet Young Monday, the undefeated Italian welterweight and at present the holder of the Italian middleweight championship. Hanson accepted the challenge, Monday to make 157 pounds and the match to be to the finish, winner to take all gate receipts, less expenses. The match will probably be fixed for November 26th, as Monday wrestles in Cincinnati next Friday night, while a match for that date has been arranged between Hanson and Yankee Rogers, of Fall River, Mass., who claims to be "no champion, but some wrestler."

"The Thinkers of the Country Are the Tobacco Chewers"— said one of the greatest thinkers this country ever produced.

The Man As Keen As A Sharp-Edged Tool—is not the one who chews strong, black tobacco.

When you want a workman who can "cut to the line", look for a PICNIC TWIST chewer. The mildly stimulating effect of mild PICNIC TWIST makes eye and nerve alert and keeps them so. The "keeping them so" is where strong tobaccos "fall down".

Chew the long-lasting sweetness of PICNIC TWIST as you work. When the whistle blows you'll feel all right.

And PICNIC TWIST'S mildness does not rob it of any of the taste you expect your tobacco to have. Every soft, mellow TWIST of PICNIC is chuck full of "good tobacco-ness".

Turn This Over In Your Mind

Teach your dollars to have more "cents," by using Larabee's Best Flour. Makes more and better bread.

Gluten is the strength or nutrition in flour. Larabee's Best Flour contains about twenty per cent. more gluten than soft wheat flour.

Our law makers require analysis of nutrition shown on each bag of mill feed sold for horses, cows, sheep, hogs and goats, but are silent as the tomb about analysis on flour for men, women and children. Larabee's Best Flour would show an analysis much richer and better than soft wheat flour.

The rich nutty flavor in Larabee's Best Flour differentiates it from all other flours; it is milled by a special process which retains the natural wheat flavor.

Grandfather's corn meal made by his little water power mill, just over the hill, on a rill, had a special flavor which pleased Bill. "There's a reason." The slow process, crushing the grain.

Larabee's Best Flour is milled from the choice grades of best Kansas hard wheat. Especially prepared for those who are using soft wheat flour for biscuits, rolls, bread, cake and all pastry purposes.

Our wise men at one time thought the world was flat. School children today know it is round. Think and act right about your flour, which through your stomach you transform into blood, bone, muscle, mind and life. Larabee's Best Flour is manufactured by the Larabee Flour Mills Co., Hutchinson, Kansas.

TOP O' THE MORNING

No star is ever lost we once have seen,
We always may be what we might have been. —SELECTED.

Go it, old top.

General Opinion is still holding out.

Next wetk is Corn Show week in Wilmington.

A house divided against itself makes gossip for the neighbors.

Cider of excellent quality is on tap in unlimited quantities, but it is Maryland cider and it is all on tap there.

The Corn Show begins in Wilmington next Tuesday and people from all Eastern North Carolina can see it till Friday.

It is stated that Mexico is quieting down, but it may be a false report that has been started by some one who hopes she will.

It is difficult for Americans to realize that a war zone is no place to expect safety. They are entitled to it but there is no guarantee to go with it.

The governor of South Carolina so far has shown no disposition to issue a requisition on the Governor of North Carolina for Tom and Jerry. However, they are wanted in South Carolina.

Says the Jacksonville Times-Union: "Lies stir up more trouble than hornets." Well, we'd like for 'em to stir up more hornets than trouble. That would give the hornets a chance to stir up trouble.

A certain city in North Carolina wants a man for an office, but it is not advertising for one. Local talent has rushed to the front, so citizens all over North Carolina should restrain their desire to ascertain the chances for interlopers.

Former President Taft thinks Senator Root "is the one man who answers the requirements of the time for the presidency." Since that is Taft's opinion, we are sure that Root will never meet the requirements of Colonel Roosevelt for president.

Speaker Champ Clark and House Leader Claude Kitchin have a different way of supporting a Democratic President. The Speaker will speak for the President and the House leader will lead against him. Wonder if it is any surprise to anybody.

In Maryland several gentlemen are engaged in a struggle to get the honor of representing Maryland in the United States Senate. If Maryland would only open the contest to outsiders, it is believed that several South Carolina artists would mobilize at once and secure transportation to Maryland headquarters.

The Democratic leader in the House must take the party for a corporal's guard. The party wants the leader in front where "forward looking men" are going in the opposite direction from the back track. Claude and Maude ought to be going in the same direction so they can keep in sight of the President.

Colonel Bryan says: "What this world needs is a Pentecost, not an Armageddon." No doubt Colonel Roosevelt is satisfied that this country, at least, never needed any Armageddon in 1912. Probably the Oyster Bay sage was only prophesying when he said: "We are standing at Armageddon." It seems that we were on the eve of it when he spoke those words.

Millions of dollars' worth of petroleum products are being exported from Mexican ports. It is a country of such vast resources that just as soon as the civil war is over millions of capital will flow into Mexico. It is stated that the United States is getting loaded down with idle capital and it is only waiting for Mexico to once more be open to development. Meanwhile the South ought to entertain that capital in many respects. Now is the time to spring big enterprises.

OUR MANUFACTURING EFFICIENCY

We are reminded of this subject by the fact that on next Wednesday we will have a Made-in-Wilmington pageant in connection with the Nation's Garden Spot Corn and Floral and Horticultural Fair, which begins next Tuesday and will continue through Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Our industrial pageant not only ought to impress us and our visitors but prove to be an object lesson that will stimulate our purpose and arouse our determination to make Wilmington an industrial city. We are to see what is made in Wilmington and it also will open our eyes to the fact that Wilmington must be "made in Wilmington."

Wilmington is more and more becoming a manufacturing city, and the Made-in-Wilmington pageant reminds us that this a good opportunity for considering the question of economy in manufacturing. Let us ask how many power units there are in Wilmington? How many are too small for the plants they operate and how many power plants are maintained at great cost when just half the power they provide is necessary? How many power plants are too small for the machinery plants they operate? Well, only a power and machinery survey will determine the facts.

A government official who was delegated with others to investigate power capacity and factory efficiency in the United States and foreign countries, so they could be compared to advantage, tells us that investigation developed the fact that, taking the country as a whole, we do not economize in the power necessary to operate the plants. In many instances the power plant is twice as large as is necessary and consequently twice as costly to operate and maintain. This is a tax on the productive capacity of a factory and eats into its profits. On the other hand, in some plants attempt is made to operate too much machinery with insufficient power. In both instances they are costly economic mistakes.

The government investigator came to the conclusion that millions of dollars are wasted by having too little power in some instances and twice as much as necessary in operating small plants. He says too many inefficient power and machinery plants are erected without calling in mechanical engineers who are qualified to calculate to a nicety just how much power is necessary to operate a certain amount of machinery so money will not be lost in providing too much or too little power. Small plants, especially, were found with power plants which consumed two tons of coal where one was necessary and required too much attention and help for the size and kind of factory to be run.

Many little factories manufacturing specialties are more profitable than some large ones, while many small industries would be more profitable if they would economize in power. Diversified small industries are greatly to the advantage of a city, and the suggestion is made that they should be assembled in a manufacturing district where a union power plant can serve all with electricity for power and lighting. Even where electric power can be had from transmission lines or from local electrical companies, the factories ought to be confined to an industrial district so a saving can be effected in the installment and maintenance of lines, transformers, dynamos, motors, etc.

In some cities there are huge industrial buildings with their own power plants, with both power and space to lease to small manufacturers. In this way a hundred small industries may be conducted under one roof. In this day of electrical power it is a waste of effort, time and money to operate small factories by steam plants of their own, but an expert mechanical engineer can best determine that and save manufacturers much more than his services cost.

If we are going to make a manufacturing city of Wilmington, why can't we have a power and machinery survey made of all our manufacturing plants. Such a survey would take in the question of power as well as the matter of efficiency and adequacy of the machinery with which it is hoped to manufacture to advantage. An engineer would also be able to point out the most adaptable district in which factories can best be located so they can get the advantage of water and rail transportation as well as get electricity or assemble coal for power at a minimum of cost. Some industries necessarily can be isolated, but as a general thing a city should have an industrial system instead of a hotchpotch of industries located where they cannot be operated to the best advantage.

We hope the hints thrown out here will not be passed over. It will be worth our while to take them seriously and to take them into earnest consideration, for cities which are rapidly becoming great manufacturing centers are putting them into practice. Efficient manufacturing plants mean economy in manufacturing and it is the model plant from which the best results are secured.

A GREAT NATIONAL ENTERPRISE

In his speech at the convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, in Savannah this week, Congressman J. Hampton Moore said some things which ought to impress the whole of America. It was a masterful presentation of the reasons why the government should not permit any further delay in proceeding with the construction of the Intra-Coastal Waterway. It is a national necessity and Representative Moore's speech ought to convince all Americans of the fact. We rather think this great undertaking will receive more attention from Congress at its approaching session. As to that the Manufacturers' Record says:

"There are indications that Congress is likely to "discover" at its coming session that one way to contribute to the preparedness of the nation for an attack is to deepen, widen and link up the inland waterways of the country. A Washington dispatch gravely announces that Senator Saulsbury, of Delaware, has hit upon a plan of national defense which contemplates the widening and deepening of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal and the extension of the canal across New Jersey to connect with New York harbor. The Manufacturers' Record called attention to that phase of an inland canal from Boston to Florida 25 years ago.

"The improvement of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal has always been considered an important feature of the long-advocated and partially-constructed inland waterway system, reaching from New England to the Rio Grande. The improvement of the Chesapeake and Deleware Canal was one of the features of the rivers and harbors bill which was sacrificed at the last session of Congress to the idiotic howl of 'pork barrel' now regularly heard at every session of Congress by individuals and echoed in newspapers in reference to every feature of the rivers and harbors bill that does not apply to the particular locality in which the newspaper or the individual is located. There can be no question of the national necessity in times of war and the national advantage in time of peace of the complete inland waterways system, which will enable boats to go from Massachusetts to the western line of Texas at all times and without reference to storms at sea or attack by hostile fleets.

"So palpable is this advantage and benefit that for twenty-five years the Manufacturers Record has been unceasingly urging upon the lawmakers the importance of such steps as will insure the completion of the project at an early date. The duty to carry out the plan at this time becomes imperative, and the next Congress should not adjourn until plans have been definitely formulated and adopted looking to the completion of the work under way at the earliest possible date. A large amount of work has been done at various points, especially along the Gulf coast. All of the links shou'd be connected up and also the canal should be cut across the upper portion of Florida so that it would be possible in times of war for vessels to safely make the trip to any point where their presence was required, and in times of peace for boats of commerce to be protected against storms at sea."

The general scheme for an inland route for coastwise shipping dates way back yonder. We have been writing about it for nearly thirty years, and one of its oldest and strongest advocates says it has been agitated for probably half a century.

It is hoped Congress will take hold of the waterway development in earnest and complete it as rapidly as possible. It is said it could be easily completed from New York to Wilmington in the next two years.

URGE SHELTER OF COTTON

The Star has learned of considerable damage to cotton held over on farms from the crop of 1914, but it is only an old story that has been repeated for a quarter of a century to our own knowledge. Cotton has suffered damage only because it was not properly sheltered and in many instances it was left on the ground where both the bagging and first layers of cotton rotted because of the absorption of water and dirt. It is stated that thousands of bales had to be rebaled before it could be sold this fall when the price was up.

So serious has been the loss from neglect during the past year that the Department of Agriculture has issued a bulletin warning farmers of the results which follow because of leaving baled cotton to unnecessary exposure. The department says it is not unusual for baled cotton to suffer a loss of from $3 to $5 a bale on account of unnecessary exposure. It urges farmers to store their cotton in a dry shed and sufficiently high from the ground that no damage can be done. Better still, the farmers are urged that standard warehouses have sufficient storage where their cotton can be insured and kept safe from damage by either weather or fire.

The bulletin also warns against cheap warehouses where the insurance rangers from 2 to 4 per cent. per annum on risks. Standard warehouses, it is urged, save enough by reason of reduced insurance to pay the difference between them and the cheap concerns that are constructed without regard to safety or utility. Standard warehouses are far cheaper in the long run.

THE CORN SHOW NEXT WEEK

The nine-county Corn Show in Wilmington next week, beginning on Tuesday, has received favorable mention by the press in practically all the counties and it is hoped each of the nine counties which have been invited to compete for the prizes will be well represented in the attendance that should be attracted by the show. It is for the benefit of all these eastern counties and they should manifest keen interest in it and co-operate heartily in its purpose. The Lumberton Robesonian, always progressive in lending its hearty support to any undertaking to promote the progress of this portion of the State, refers again to the Corn Show and remarks:

"The Robesonian calls atention again to the Corn and Agricultural Show which will be held in Wilmington next week, a dispatch concerning which is published on page 2 of this issue. The purpose of this show is to stimulate more modern methods of farming in eastern North Carolina and better yields. It is to be hoped that a number of Robeson county people will have exhibits and compete for prizes. It is not a money-making scheme and it deserves the hearty support of all the people of this section of the State."

Certainly after Eeastern North Carolina has demonstrated that it can grow more than 100 bushels of corn to the acre, the people ought to follow up by giving publicity to it, as can be done in a striking way by just such exhibits as we are to have in Wilmington on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. We are gratified also that there is to be a farmers' exhibit at Lumberton the first week in December. The Robesonian thus refers to the Lumberton show:

"The exhibit of farm products, poultry and live stock which will be held in Lumberton December 2, 3 and 4 will be the first event of the kind held in Lumberton in some years, and it should draw many exhibits. Robeson has plenty of material for exhibits for a good county fair, and maybe this will be the beginning of a county fair. Get a copy of the premium list and resolve to win one or more of the prizes offered."

The disposition to exhibit the agricultural achievements of this section shows that we are waking up to the fine opportunities that are offered in the rich resources of every county in the southeastern section of North Carolina. We hear of one New Hanover county farmer who produced 110 bushels of corn per acre on his farm, and he was "just farming" and made no effort to win a prize.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Dr. Charles E. Taylor was one of the most perfect gentlemen we have ever known. He was, moreover, able to write the purest English of any man in our State unless Dr. J. D. Hufham be excepted. Under Dr. Taylor's administration Wake Forest emerged from provincialism into a foremost place among our North Carolina institutions of learning. He was a great gospel preacher and a valuable citizen. As an author he had few equals among the men of letters in North Carolina. His book on "How Far a State Should Undertake to Educate" has never been answered, though several attempts were made in vain. It was in his home life that Dr. Taylor was at his very best. He was the sunlight of as beautiful and tender a household as we have ever entered. We all loved him, but his dear ones loved him most, and to them we offer our poor sympathy, and pray that the Lord will comfort them in their loneliness.—Charity and Children.

At a meeting last week the Robeson Medical Society went on record as disagreeing with Dr. Goldberger's theory that pellagra is caused by an unbalanced diet alone and as being strongly of the opinion that the disease is an infection transmitted in much the same way that typhoid fever, dysentery and other bowel affections are transmitted, though by what exact germ is not yet known. This theory was advanced more than a year ago by Dr. B. W. Page, Robeson's whole-time health officer, who has made a careful study of the disease for some time. Statistics reveal the astonishing and disquieting fact that pellagra since last April has caused in Robeson more deaths than tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria and scarlet fever combined. Members of the Robeson Medical Association believe that Dr. Goldberger's theory is calculated to do harm in that it may mislead many people by the false hope of curing the disease by regulation of diet alone and a committee appointed by the association has prepared on article on this subject which is published in this issue of The Robesonian.—Lumberton Robesonian.

Friends and admirers of Representative Claude Kitchin, of North Carolina, will regret that he cannot bring himself into harmony with the administration on the naval programme which is to be submitted to Congress. Mr. Kitchin is a man of decided ability, and it is difficult to understand his attitude on the most important question of the day. It is not to be assumed that he is playing to the galleries of agricultural economists in his district, or that he is influenced by any other consideration than that of the public good. National defense is not in itself a party question, and he has a right to his own opinion; but if the Democratic majority, as is probable, should decide in caucus to get behind the President's plan, it would seem inappropriate to have as its floor leader in the House one who opposes the administration on the overshadowing measure of the session. As an individual Democrat Mr. Kitchin's opposition would have no significance, but as the representative of the party it might be given a false interpretation and serve as capital for Republican critics. We trust Mr. Kitchin will see a new light before the meeting of Congress. And we trust he may get some hints from his home district. But if he does not, it may be well for him to consider whether he will not be in a false position as Democratic floor leader of the House and leader of the opposition to the most important item in the Democratic legislative program. —Baltimore Sun.

THEY WANT GOOD ROADS

Washington Township Association Formed—Election to Be Held.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., Nov. 11.—At a meeting of representative business men, the Washington Township Good Roads Association was formally organized, with an enthusiastic membership of thirty-six. The membership is composed of business and professional men and farmers from both city and rural districts. A preliminary discussion of plans and work was held after which the following officers were elected: President W. H. Stancill, vice presidents, O. B. Rawls, S. Leggett, S. E. Brown, J. C. Latham, J. H. Clark, F. H. Rollins and S. R. Fowle; secretary, E. L. Stewart; treasurer, C. M. Williams. The county commissioners recently authorized an election for a bond issue to improve and build up the roads of the township, which will be held soon.

The large department store of Bowers Brothers Company on Main street was entered by thieves and about $200 in men's furnishings was found missing when the clerks opened the store yesterday morning. The thieves gained access to the building by forcing a window in the rear on the ground floor. The local police are at work but as yet there are no clues to the guilty parties.

DRAINAGE WORK IS DELAYED

Dredge Badly Damaged by Fire Near Audubon—Loss Was Several Thousand Dollars—Insurance.

A delay of about three weeks in completing the Winter Park drainage project has been caused by the partial burning of the dredge of the Southern Drainage & Construction Company, which has the contract for the work. The dredge was being moved from one part of the work to another about a half mile south of Audubon station Wednesday morning when the exhaust from the furnace set fire to the grass. The flames ignited the oil of the engine and damaged it so badly that a new one will have to be put in, also badly damaging the dredge. The electrical fixtures also were ruined.

Mr. C. W. Hodges, of Kinston, general manager of the company, was in the city yesterday and stated that the loss would amount to several thousand dollars which is fully covered by insurance. As this is the only dredge in operation on the project, it will be impossible to do any work to amount to anything until a new engine can be secured and the electric fixtures installed. Other parts of the dredge will also have to be repaired.

Mr. Hodges, who returned to his home last night, stated that the work has progressed satisfactorily since it was started several months ago and that the project will be completed certainly by Christmas and possibly earlier. The original plans were to have the work finished by December 15 and with good luck it may yet be completed by that time.

THIRD VISIT OF BURGLAR TO HOME WITHIN A WEEK.

Mrs. Charles H. Wessell Heard Prowler in House Last Night—Ran Away.

Making the third time within a week that a burglar has entered the home, Mrs. Charles H. Wessell last night at 9:30 o'clock discovered that someone was in one of the upstairs rooms of her home, No. 606 Chestnut street. Her husband, who is a boat captain, was away from home and she and her children were in the dining room. She stepped to the telephone to notify the police and the burglar evidently hearing her come into the hall quietly stepped out the window, through which he had entered the house, out on the front porch and made his escape by climbing down the lattice work.

Sergeant Howell and Policeman Gray answered the call and made a thorough investigation. They found the tracks of a man and also found that he had entered the bedroom upstairs by pushing the screen open, the window already being raised. A searchlight was also missing, but nothing else so far as could be learned. Sergeant Howell nailed the window down securely so that entrance could not be gained in that way again.

Earlier in the week a burglar went into the dining room of the house while the family were asleep and, helping himself to what he could find, went out on the rear porch and ate what he wanted. Nothing else was missed. The home was again entered by a burglar but nothing was taken. Neighbors saw a light in the home at the time, but thinking that it was Mr. Wessell going away on an early morning trip thought nothing of it at the time.

THE SPEAKERS' CLUB.

Held Interesting Debate Last Night. Future Events.

The Speakers' Club at the Y. M. C. A. is keeping up its interest and enthusiasm at a high pitch. A splendid meeting was held last night at the association club rooms. Two teams, composed of four men each, debated the query, "Resolved, That the subscription to the Allies' loan, recently floated in America, is unneutral."

The team upholding the neutrality of the loan amassed a large number of arguments and facts against their opponents, which the "Unneutrals" were unable to disprove to the satisfaction of the judges. As a consequence of this, it was decided that the loan is a neutral action. The judges were Mr. J. M. Taylor, Mr. Avery and Mr. Williamson.

The Speakers' Club is growing continuously, since being organized about a month ago. A number of visitors last night complimented the work they are doing.

Two most interesting programmes are already arranged for the near future when the questions of "Woman Suffrage" and "National Defense" will be brought to a final settlement—so far as debating in the club is concerned.

Woman suffrage will be discussed on Friday night of next week. The team arguing in favor of giving women the right to vote will be composed of Dr. E. S. Bulluck, Messrs. D. H. Howes, A. G. Wilder, F. J. Robinson, A. C. McNamara and K. B. Knudsen. The term opposing will be composed of Messrs. L. R. Hummell, B. C. Brown, J. M. Bullard, L. F. DuVall, J. E. Reynolds and B. V. Sunofsky.

On Friday night, December 10th, a team composed of Dr. E. S. Bulluck and Mr. L. R. Hummell will argue that the United States' National defense equipment should be increased. A team composed of Messrs. L. F. DuVall and K. B. Knudsen will oppose.

UNUSUALLY WARM WEATHER

Temperature Yesterday Was Highest For November Since 1908—Rain is Promised for Today.

Only by consulting the calendar could anyone in Wilmington yesterday have guessed it was November. The lazy yawning feeling reminded one of spring and the high temperature made it seem like a summer day. The thermometer registered a maximum of 80 degrees, this being maintained steadily throughout the day. This is the highest the mercury has risen here in November since 1908 and in that year it registered the same as yesterday.

Thirty-six years ago today, the thermometer registered in Wilmington 83 degrees and that still remains the record for November weather in this city. Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has there been such a long period of unseasonably warm weather before in this section. Early in September there were several days of rather cool weather when wraps were in demand and many people prepared to lay in the winter's supply of fuel. This was followed by warmer weather and with the exception of two or three days when there were tinges of the autumn season, it has seemed more like summer than fall.

The last several weeks have been fair and the farmers have had an ideal time in which to gather their crops. However, there is now a promise of a change and Observer Felger stated yesterday that while he was sorry to say it, bad weather is on the way and will probably reach Wilmington today. He expects rain and colder weather. This will not be the final farewell to autumn but within a few days the sun will come forth again, he says, and give its last farewell before retreating to the south for the winter.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR HILTON COMPRESS COMPANY

Corporation Takes Over Warehouse and Compress of Senator Cooper.

Officers have been elected by the stockholders of the Hilton Compress & Warehouse Co., which was recently granted a charter by the Secretary of State and has taken over the compress and warehouse business of Senator W. B. Cooper. The plant is located on the northeast branch of the Cape Fear river near the Hilton railroad bridge. The company has an authorized capital of $100,00, all of which has been paid in. The business was started last year and has a most promising future.

The officers elected by the stockholders at a meeting Thursday are as follows: President, W. B. Cooper; vice president, I. W. Cooper; secretary and treasurer, J. M. Thompson; superintendent of the compress, Harry Donkle.

A large warehouse has been erected with a storage capacity of 10,000 bales and a large modern compress was installed. It is the intention of the new company to bond the warehouse for $100,000 so that the receipts issued may be negotiated for loans from the banks. There is now a large quantity of cotton stored in the warehouse.

The compress and warehouse business is independent of the cotton business of W. B. Cooper & Co. which will be continued as heretofore. Mr. C. A. Price, an experienced cotton man, is general manager of the latter concedn. This company has done considerable exporting business this season, the staple being sent to Europe via New York and Baltimore.

IMPERIAL HOTEL OPEN

Mrs. Elizabeth McIntosh Will Have Charge of Hostelry.

Mrs. Elizabeth McIntosh has taken over the management of the Imperial Hotel on North Front street. The hotel was formerly in charge of Miss Anna Herring but was closed in September. Mrs. McIntosh announces that a new dining room has been built and that the accommodations will be of the best.

Mrs. McIntosh has wide experience in the hotel business, having had charge of the Northrop cottage at Wrightsville Beach at one time and for another season ran the Carolina cottage also at the beach. She was in charge of the Colonial Inn before this hotel was closed to be made into an apartment house.

EXHIBITS ARE COMING IN.

Mr. L. B. Sasser Has Some of Them on Exhibition at Drug Store.

Those big bales of hay on exhibition at the Mission Pharmacy have been sent to Mr. L. B. Sasser, proprietor of the store, to be put on display at the Corn and Agricultural Show. He also has some potatoes and other things which have been sent to him. Exhibits are coming in rapidly now and the present indications are very bright indeed for one of the most creditable exhibits of farm products ever shown in this section. All exhibits addressed to the Corn and Agricultural Show will be taken care of by the management. They should be plainly marked in order that it may be known from whom they come.

GETTING FLOATS READY

Many Unique Exhibits to be Shown in Parade Wednesday Morning

That big "Made in Wilmington" parade Wednesday morning is going to be one of the most unique displays ever given in the city of Wilmington. There will be floats of attractive design and those who expect to enter the event are now busy getting them ready. Chairman Ames desires to have an accurate list of the different kinds of floats which will appear in the parade and requests that he be notified of the kind of float that each dealer or manufacturer expects to have.

Death of James Keating.

James Keating, a seaman, whose death occurred Thursday night at the United States Marine Hospital, was buried yesterday at noon in Bellevue cemetery. Mr. Keating was 52 years old and he was a native of Brooklyn, N. Y. He came to Wilmington on a vessel about six months ago and had been a patient at the Marine Hospital since that time. Death was due to tubercular trouble.

WILMINGTON WILL MAKE BID

Determined Effort Will be Put Forth to Secure Military Training Camp for Civilians.

Wilmington will make a determined effort to secure the military training camp for civilians which Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the Department of the East and originator of the training camp idea, announced in an address in Richmond on Thursday night would be established in North Carolina. General Wood stated that the camp, which would be established in North Carolina next year, would be similar to the one which was operated at Plattsburg, N. Y., last summer.

C. C. Loughlin, Esq., a popular young attorney in this city, took up the matter of securing the camp for Wilmington with Senator Overman and Congressman Godwin some time ago following the first suggestion that a camp be established in North Carolina. He was assured that in the event such a training camp was decided upon for North Carolina that Wilmington would receive consideration. Now that the proposition seems to have assumed more tangible form, the matter will again be taken up and strong pressure will be brought to bear to secure favorable action.

Congressman Godwin will give his support to Wilmington and while Senator Overman has intimated that he would favor either Asheville or Morehead City, he may decide to lend his influence to Wilmington. Senator Simmons will be asked to lend his support to Wilmington.

Whatever the outcome of the matter may be, the Washington officials will be fully informed about the advantages Wilmington has to offer for such a training camp.

BRAVES BREAK HOODOO

Reds Take Lead Again in Friday Night League at Boys' Brigade.

	W	L	Pct.
Reds	5	1	.833
Dodgers	4	2	.666
Seminoles	2	4	.333
Braves	1	5	.166

Results Last Night.

Braves 28, Dodgers 22.

Reds 40, Seminoles 17.

The first game of basketball at the Boys' Brigade armory last night was one of the hardest fought of the season. The Braves succeeded in breaking their "hoodoo" and literally "tore" a game away from the Dodgers. They had to fight every minute, for Bill Montgomery's Dodgers are always in the fight from start to finish. Snakenburg's men had to be changed around two or three times on account of accidents during the game. Mac Griffith hurt his knee and was replaced by Bob Burnett, and came into the game again when Kure had to quit account of a slight cut over the eye received in a scramble for the ball.

Bob Burnett was cheered heartily when he appeared on the floor, it being his first game since the first week of the season when he dislocated his shoulder playing football.

Burnett responded by dropping several pretty goals for his team. All of Snakenberg's men got in the scoring, each getting two, except Burnett who caged the ball three times. Ellis made good two out of three chances at foul goals, making the Braves' total 28 points.

For the Dodgers Ed Register played star ball, with his fast team work, and total of four goals. Ruark was a close second with three goals. Davis seemed to play all over the floor, but Snakenburg guarded him for a scoreless game. These two men put up one of the prettiest games of the whole league. Captain Montgomery and H. Gerdes fought hard to hold their forwards down, and contributed to their own score with one and two goals respectively, but their forwards could not find the basket often enough to take the game. The cheering was deafening when the timekeper's whistle blew and it was seen that the Braves had the game.

In the second game Gallagher's Reds whipped Sholar's Seminoles to the tune of 40 to 17. These two teams were very much made over last night. C. C. Davis for the Reds was out of the game on account of a sprained hand, being replaced by Rhodes and Cliff Dixon, an old-time Co-B man took Horneman's place. For the Seminoles Hanson, being out of town, was replaced by W. King, drafted from the Wednesday night League; and J. Fowler, from the same league was played in Irving's place at forward, Irving taking center in the place of McCartney, who is out of town. The goal throwing of A. Smith spelled most of the victory for the Reds, he securing a total of 8, or 16 points. Dixon, although out of the game for a long time, was fast and sure as ever, he getting four goals. Captain Gallagher played star ball, guarding and getting five goals himself. The Seminoles played hard and fast, but could not find their arms when throwing for the basket.

ARRESTED ON GRAVE CHARGE

Oscar Lawrence, White Man, Locked Up at Police Station Last Night.

Orcar Lawrence, white, about 50 years of age or older, living at 210 Castle street and employed as a janitor about the Masonic Temple building, was arrested about 10 o'clock last night at his home by Sergeant J. S. Lane charged with an unspeakable crime towards Daisy Robbins, eight-year-old daughter of Mrs. Alice Robbins, No. 613 South Third street, in the neighborhood in which Lawrence with his wife and family live.

Day before yesterday information came to Chief of Police Williams and Public Safety Councilman Hall that the child was in the hospital for treatment and, almost unwilling to believe the diagnosis of the surgeon in charge, they went to the hospital and investigated further the report from him. Plainclothes Officer D. W. Coleman was detailed to further investigate and locate the mother of the child, resulting in the charge upon which Lawrence was locked up without bail last night. The case will likely be heard by Recorder Empie as soon as the child is able to leave the institution in which she is being treated.

Schedule Changed Next Monday

The Tidewater Power Company has announced the following change in the schedule of cars on the suburban line, to be effective next Monday, November 15th: Beginning on that day the train which leaves Front and Princess streets at 11:15 p. m., will turn back at Wrightsville instead of going through to the beach. On the return trip this car is due to leave Wrightsville at 11:45 p. m. instead of 12:10 a. m., and due to leave Winter Park at 11:56 p. m., instead of 12:21 a. m.

PREPARING FOR TOURNAMENT

Wilmington Golfers Spending Much Time on Links—Weather Has Been Ideal for Ancient Game.

Members of the Cape Fear Country Club are now busy getting in form for the first big tournament of the season which will be played on the links in East Wilmington on Thanksgiving Day. There will be the usual handicap match and the sweepstakes contest and it is expected that there will be a large number of entries. Announcement of the rules governing the match and the handicaps will be posted at the country club house at an early date.

The weather for the past few weeks has been ideal for golfing and other outdoor sports and Wilmingtonians have availed themselves freely of the opportunity to breathe the pure fresh air. Tennis is one of the popular games in this city and there are a number of courts in the suburbs and several in the city. There is a splendid court at the Cape Fear Country Club.

A small garage has been built at the country club grounds which has proved to be a great accommodation to those owning automobiles. In connection with the garage, there is also room for the members to store their golfing togs. It will be remembered that the caddy house was burned last spring and also the larger mower for the greens.

The grounds have been put in first class condition for the fall and winter and expert golfers are expecting to make some new records this winter. Wilmington has some of the best players in the State and arrangements will probably be made for tournaments with some of the other clubs in the larger cities. During the past year, the Wilmington club had a tournament with the Raleigh Country Club and it is probable that other matches will be arranged with this club later.

MANY CASES YESTERDAY

Recorder Disposes of Large Number of Offenders.

Recorder Empie handled a large number of minor cases yesterday. One of the most interesting was that of George Walker, colored, who was charged with violating the sanitary ordinances in two cases, both of which were continued until November 22.

Moses Graham, colored, was convicted of violating the driving ordinances. Judgment was suspended upon payment of costs. Mr. H. Evenson, paid the costs in a similar case.

Mary Green, colored, was convicted of vagrancy, but inasmuch as she had been recently married, she was acquitted upon payment of costs. Frank Hooper, Jr., colored, was found not guilty of a similar charge. Nora Sumter, colored, will have another hearing next Monday on a charge of vagrancy.

Pompey Lyons, colored, was found not guilty of an assault with a deadly weapon. Alex Adams, Clarence Wilson and Mago Best, all colored, were called on charges of an assault with deadly weapon. Clarence Wilson, had not yet been apprehended, while Alex. Adams and Mago Best were found not guilty.

Jim Evans, colored, was given hearings on two cases, one for disorderly conduct and the other for carrying a concealed weapon. Both cases were continued until today.

Mr. MacMillan says that business is good throughout the territory and there is a feeling generally of greater optimism than since the war began. He had a number of inquiries for the Packard Twin-Six and landed several orders while on his trip through the territory. The demonstration car will be at Packard headquarters here for the remainder of the season.

WHAT TO DO FOR ITCHING SKINS

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put up in the form of resinol ointment and resinol soap. This proved so remarkably successful that thousands of other physicians have been prescribing it constantly for 20 years.

Resinol stops itching instantly, and almost always heals the eruption quickly and at little cost. Resinol ointment and resinol soap can be bought at any druggist's.

CLEARS BLOTCHY SKIN

Try resinol soap for a week. You will be surprised to see how it clears and freshens your complexion, even in that short time. Used for the shampoo, it removes dandruff and keeps the hair live, rich and lustrous. This is because it contains the soothing, healing resinol medication.

RECEPTION IN HONOR OF REV, AND MRS. W. M. CRAIG.

A most delightful reception was given last evening in the reception room of the First Baptist church by the congregation in honor of Rev. W. Marshall Craig, the acting pastor, and his bride.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with bamboo, palms and yellow and green chrysanthemums. The deacons of the church and their wives received the guests attending and escorted them to the refreshment stand where delicious punch and cream were served.

Several readings were most entertainingly rendered complimentary to Rev. and Mrs. Craig, by Miss Ethel Holmes. Selections from "Rose Maiden" were charmingly rendered by a chorus, consisting of Mrs. George Boylan and Miss Carrie White, sopranos; Mrs. F. A. Muse and Miss Lila Williams, altos; Messrs. Charles Schulken and Ernest Green, tenors; Messrs. Clarence Stanland and W. B. Muse, bass. "Dawning," by Cadman, was artistically rendered by Mr. Charles L. Schulken, while "The Year is at the Spring," by Beach, was beautifully rendered by Mrs. George Boylan. Following the programme, an appropriate short talk was made by Mr. D. H. Penton.

The reception was a beautiful expression of the high esteem in which Rev. and Mrs. Craig are held by the congregation of the First Baptist church.

TO OPEN BIDS EARLY NEXT YEAR FOR CUSTOM HOUSE.

Col. Walker Taylor, Collector of Customs, Returns from Washington.

In all probability the contract for the erection of the new custom house in Wilmington will be awarded early next year, Col. Walker Taylor, collector of customs, stated yesterday after his return from Washington, D. C., where he went early in the week on business. Colonel Taylor called at the Treasury Department to see what progress was being made and was assured by the officials that as soon as the additional strip of ground in the rear of the custom house site is secured that there would be no further reason for delay in awarding the contract.

Bids had been advertised to be opened on October 9th, but it was found, in order to build the structure according to the plans which had been prepared and to have the required space between the new building and the adjacent structures, that it would be necessary to have an additional ten feet of ground and the opening of the bids was delayed on this account.

Colonel Taylor was authorized to purchase the property and the transaction has been closed with the exception of having the title passed upon by the district attorney.

The plaintiff is represented by John D. Bellamy & Son.

—A large gong, that will sound a fire alarm which can be neard a considerable distance, will be placed at the corner of Fourth and Princess streets within the next few days as a precaution to pedestrians and traffic, as this is the place crossed most often by the fire apparatus when answering an alarm across town, and being at the bottom of a grade is very dangerous when those approaching fail to hear the bell. Such a bell is used in most large cities and probably others will be installed on many corners in the busy downtown section of Wilmington.

Working on Plans to Finance Wilmington Into National Sport.

Mr. J. W. Blomme, one of the leading baseball fans of the city, returned to the city last night and was busy until a late hour getting the younger fans together for their work to make a report at a mass meeting tonight at the Court House.

It will be remembered that a committee was appointed Thursday night, at a mass meeting, to canvass the business men of the city with the purpose in view of interesting them in baseball, in the hope that they might see their way clear to raise the necessary capital with which to bring organized baseball to this city. Also several young men promised to make a private canvass of the employes of the A. C. L. to see how well they would respond to taking small amounts of stock upon themselves for this purpose.

It is expected that the meeting tonight will be the biggest and most enthusiastic yet held, as both these committees will make reports of the successes attending their work.

MR. WILLARD IN NORFOLK

Well Known Bag Factory Man Takes Position in Virginia

Mr. E. Payson Willard expects to leave in a few days for Norfolk, Va., where he has taken a position with a bag factory. His family will join him there in the near future.

Mr. Willard is well known in Wilmington, having been for several years the popular manager of the Willard bag factory, which has recently shut down temporarily. His many friends are sorry to see him leave Wilmington, but wish him much success in his new position.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 12.—The Dupont Podwer Company, according to trustworthy information, has received an additional $65,000,000 powder order from the Entente Allies. The company officials today would not confirm or deny the report.

CHILDREN'S LAWS OF 1015

Forty-five State and territorial legislatures and the Congress of the United States in 1915 passed laws affecting children, according to the Children's bureau which has just completed its survey of such legislation during the current year. Special reference is made by the impressive bulk of children's laws and to the number of commissions appointed to study and prepare for future legislation.

Arkansas, Florida, and Utah have commissions to report on the needs of the feeble-minded; New Jersey, a commission to prepare a State programme for the reorganization of public care of defectives, dependents, and delinquents; Missouri and New Hampshire, commissions on the needs of the blind; Delaware, a commission on vocational education; Idaho, a commission to report on the need for a minimum wage law; Florida and Indiana, commissions on the need for mothers' pensions; and California, a commission to study social insurance.

The bureau says that the appointment of these commissions indicates a growing realization that benevolent intent can not safely be accepted as a substitute for the careful formulation of statutes for social betterment. The subjects to which study is directed are all of immediate concern to children, and the states are thus fairly committed to a policy of selecting and harmonizing provisions which leads plainly toward the collection and codifying of all laws relating to children.

As showing the great amount of children's legislation the bureau says that twenty-seven states have amended their provisions for dependent children; eighteen have improved their treatment of juvenile delinquents, sixteen have strengthened their child labor law; fourteen have concerned themselves with the needs of the mentally defective or feeble-minded; three states and the District of Columbia were added to those specifically permitting the use of public school buildings as social centers and nine amended or for the first time passed a playground law; and four states passed a model vital statistics law in which the children's bureau is interested because it considers complete birth registration of fundamental importance to child welfare work.

A few of the forty-five states made notable advances. Alabama, for example, whose legislature meets only once in four years, enacted a new child labor law, a compulsory school attendance law, an excellent desertion and non-support law and a state-wide juvenile court law. Florida remodelled its treatment of juvenile delinquents, recognized the principle of compulsory school attendance, passed the model vital statistics law, and appointed two of the state commissions already referred to. Kansas established an industrial commission to regulate hours, wages and conditions of work for women and minors, and a division of child hygiene in the state board of health; it also enacted a playground law and a mothers' pension law. New Jersey and Wyoming passed comprehensive acts relating to the care of dependent children and Pennsylvania, carefully drafted laws relating to child labor and vocational education.

The children's bureau has included in its review the outlying territories of the United States and reports that Alaska has forbidden the employment of boys under 16 underground in mines; Hawaii has passed a curfew law for girls under 16 in Honolulu; the Philippines have provided for dental clinics in the schools and created a public welfare board to establish and maintain social centers; and Porto Rico has passed a modern juvenile court law.

HEIR TO MILLIONS KILLS HIMSELF BY TAKING POISON

Warren M. Peabody Found in His Chicago Home—Was to Wed

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Warren M. Peabody, 21 years old, and a millionaire by inheritance, whose body was found last night in his home beside a vial which had contained poison, committed suicide while temporarily insane, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury today. From the time the young man wore knickerbockers the idea of suicide seemed attractive to him, was the testimony of his mother, widow of Hiram B. Peabody, a millionaire real estate operator. Mrs. Peabody testified that her son was engaged, but was on good terms with his fiancee.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 1.—Warren M. Peabody, the young millionaire who committed suicide in Chicago last night, was engaged to be married on November 16 to Miss Louise Anderson, daughter of T. Carey Anderson, of this city. The young woman is prostrated. Mrs. Anderson declared there had been no disagreement of any kind between the two.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

BRIGHTER CHILDREN

Children are probably brighter to-day than a generation ago—but are they stronger? That's a grave question. So many pinched faces, dulled eyes and languid feelings make us wonder if they will ever grow into robust, healthy men and women.

If your children catch colds easily, are tired when rising, lack healthy color, or find studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion for one month to enrich their blood and restore the body-forces to healthy action.

Scott's Emulsion is used in private schools. It is not a "patent medicine", simply a highly concentrated oil-food, without alcohol or harmful drugs. It cannot harm; it improves blood; it benefits lungs and strengthens the system. Your druggist has it—refuse substitutes.

The finest silk that Switzerland sends here is used to sift Valier's Dainty Flour to impalpable fineness. That's why Valier's Dainty baking is always so light and fine.

It is milled slowly to retain full baking quality of the flour and sifted through silk to get fineness. Sometimes it costs a trifle more by the sack, but always it costs less in use, because it makes more baking.

NEWS OF A DAY FROM THE STATE'S CAPITAL

84 Rural School Children Going to Raleigh

For Demonstration Work at Teachers' Assembly—Farmers Union Programme Completed—Winston After Auto Owners.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 12.—Raleigh's private homes have been freely tendered the 84 rural school children who are to give to the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly demonstrations in the arts taught by these schools. The Women's club assumed the burden of entertaining these visitors from the rural elementary and from the farm life schools. While the assembly proper is the collective guest of the many hotels and boarding houses, the young people will be cared for without charge and allowed to stay for the entire session.

At Charlotte last year this demonstration in cooking, sewing, canning and other activities, given for the first time, made a hit that took rank almost with the lectures of Dr. William Lyon Phelps and Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, the first that charming spirit of the chair of English in Yale; the second the mother of the Moonlight School movement in Kentucky. As splendid as was the Charlotte exhibition it is planned upon bigger scale in Raleigh.

Governor Craig honored a requisition today from the governor of Illinois for Harry Kehr, who is being held at Durham for the Chicago authorities on the charge of stealing a $1,500 seven passenger automobile. The warrant that accompanies the requisition shows that the automobile was taken from the garage of Mrs. W. T. Beidorf, in Chicago. Dennis J. Sullivan was the officer who came from Chicago to get the fugitive.

After Automobile Owners.

The most wholesale indictment of automobile owners on record is indicated by inquiry that has come to the State Department here from Sheriff George D. Flynt, of Forsyth county, as to the owners of 52 automobile numbers, it being understood that these machines have recently violated the auto regulations in Winston-Salem. The owners are found to be scattered as widely as Wilmington, Gastonia, Cherryville, Salisbury, Greensboro, High Point and numbers of other points as remote.

An amendment to the charter of the Bank of Mount Gilead increases the authorized capital stock to $50,000. J. A. McCauley is the president of the bank.

A charter is issued for the Roanoke Peanut Company, of Williamston, capital $30,000 authorized and $7,500 subscribed by Leslie Fowden, H. H. Cowen and J. A. Sanders.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, delivered the principal aduress today for the community fair that is being held at the farm life school at Bahama, Durham county, with a marked degree of success. He goes Saturday to Gastonia to take a hand in the launching of the moonlight school movement in Gaston county.

Chairman E. L. Travis, of the Corporation Commission, returned today from Charlotte where he took a hand in the taking of evidence before Examiner Desque, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in the case of the Charlotte Pipe and Foundry Company, vs. Trans-continental carriers, in which it is sought to give Charlotte the same rate to the Pacific coast on iron pipe that is enjoyed by Birmingham, Chattanooga and other points east of the Missisippi. Charlotte had the same rate of 13 cents up to last May when the rate from the other points involved was reduced to 11 cents and Charlotte was left with the 13 cent rate. Chairman Travis says that he is confident that the concession to Charlotte will be made. However, it will take several months probably for the interstate commission to reach and finally dispose of the case.

Farmers' Union Programme.

The programme for the State convention of the North Carolina Farmers' Union, which is to be held next week in Durham ,beginning Tuesday November 16, and running through three days, has been sent to the secretaries of all the local unions. The meetings will be held in the Academy of Music, which is the handsomest theatre between Richmond and Atlanta. All addresses will be public and with the exception of Senator McLaurin's discussion of the South Carolina State Warehouse system immediately following the devotional exercises and the addresses of welcome by Mayor Skinner, President James H. Southgate, of the Chamber of Commerce, and the response by T. B. DeLoache on behalf of the Union, the big speeches will be made at the night sessions. The call to order at 10 a. m. starts the work.

Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock the night session begins and John Sprunt Hill, of Durham, will make the address on ::The Rural Credits System We Need." Congressman A. F. Lever's address on the Federal Warehouse Bill is slated to follow Mr. Hill.

STEEL FOR DELIVERY IN NEAR FUTURE SOLD UP TO CAPACITY

Temporary Withdrawal From French Market of U. S. Steel

New York, Nov. 12. — Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, issued a statement today confirming reports that the corporation had withdrawn temporarily from the French market quotations on its finished steel products, with certain exceptions. He declared that "steel products for delivery in the near future were sold well up to maximum capacity, and that until the general questions of supply and demand are carefully considered it is impossible to tell how much surplus we shall have for sale in France for the present."

ELWOOD COX IS CHAIRMAN

Executive Committee of National Banks of Bankers' Association

New York, Nov. 12.—J. Elwood Cox of High Point, N. C., was chosen chairman of the executive committee of the National Bank section of the American Bankers' Association which met here today for the purpose of completing organization and mapping out work for its future activity. The meeting was largely given up to a discussion of legislative matters pertaining to the Federal Reserve system and its relation to the National banks.

THEATRICAL

While the dramatic spectacle "Everywoman," which Henry W. Savage will offer here shortly, is a modernization of the ancient morality play, "Everywoman," which was in vogue in the Sixteenth Century, it is by no means a preachy document. It contains no less than twenty-six musical numbers ranging from grave to gay. An entire symphony orchestra is carried by the organization to render the impressive score which was composed by George Whitefield Chadwick, dean of the New England Conservatory of Music, of Boston.

"September Morn."

Of the successes that the LaSalle Opera House, Chicago, has turned "September Morn" holds all records for receipts during its stay there. For months the S. R. O. sign was before the box office and thousands were turned away nightly. This remarkable business was due to the fact that Chicago was seeing a musical show that was really out of the ordinary, a musical show that is really musical—a pretty chorus that can really sing and a cast of principals that include some musical comedy stars as Carl George, Jo Taylor, Mabel Laffin, Walter M. Weifitt, J. J. Patton, James Baber, Curt Vance and forty-three other helpers. "September Morn" will be the attraction at the Academy of Music at an early date.

"Guarding Old Glory"—Royal.

Today the Royal presents a feature that has received more commendation and that has aroused more discussion and talk than any other photoplay that has been produced during the entire year, "Guarding Old Glory," that massive five-act feature, which contains enough action to keep you on the qui vive every minute for an hour and a half.

There has never been such a production before and there will never be another such feature produced anywhere. "Guarding Old Glory" is not intended to arouse "spreadeagleism," but rather to make one feel proud of what Uncle Sam can do when once he undertakes to do a thing. After seeing this production we cannot help feeling that man for man in the army, and ship for ship in the navy, the United States can hold its own against any power; but we are also convinced that Uncle Sam must give us many more of them in order to do so.

"Guarding Old Glory" contains thrilling scenes galore—fleets of battleships, flotillas of torpedo boats, submarines, aeroplanes, marine explosions, thousands of men, hundreds of horses, batteries of artillery, big guns, small guns, marine guns—all in action for every minute.

The Moving Picture World's unbiased critic said that "Guarding Old Glory" is the "greatest film I've ever seen"—and he sees thousands of them every month. "Guarding Old Glory" should be seen by everyone. Secretary Daniels says: "I trust that thousands will see 'Guarding Old Glory.'" Major-General Wood says: "It's time the people knew the truth. 'Guarding Old Glory' will tell it." Thousands of other high officials, all of whom are shown in the picture, have spoken likewise of it. They are the official pictures of the United States government —Don't miss them, and come early if you want to get in.

At the Bijou Today.

Ben Wilson and Dorothy Phillips present their greatest feat of the year at the Bijou today, in a great three-reel drama of brotherly love, "The Springtime of the Spirit."

Ben's beautiful ward, whose mother was an old-time sweetheart of his, awakens in Ben a youthful ardor that leads him to propose marriage to her. Because her father left a request in a letter delivered to Dorothy years after his death, she felt impelled to accept Ben, though her heart was given to Ben's younger brother. The beautiful manner in which Director Wilson has developed the strong story in the picture, brings about a convincing and logical ending that is better told on the screen, and a splendid opportunity for the fine acting of which he is capable. "The Springtime of the Spirit" is an idealistic photoplay of strong and compelling charm, and will make everybody that sees it feel better from witnessing its showing. It's a beautiful story, full of tender feelings and will leave a lasting impression upon everyone.

The Animated Weekly today contains, as usual, many great and thrilling scenes, culled from the entire civilized globe. Full of educational and interesting features.

Broadway Star Feature—Grand

Here is something extraordinary in the way of a feature picture at the Grand today. It's a three-reel Vitagraph Broadway Star feature, and as you know they are the best brand of the Vitagraph Company. "Through Troubled Waters" is the title, by William McLeod Raine, featuring Alfred Vosburgh, Anne Schaefer, Myrtle Gonzales and Jack Mower. The story tells of how a famous playwright and actress bride are marooned on a desert isle. Had lived so long on desert paradise, the couple did not want to leave it. Gordon White, a handsome young mountaineer, falls in love with Viola Lorraine, an actress, and, inspired by her, writes a beautiful play, which with Viola in the lead makes a big hit. He marries the girl, but his absorption in play writing causes them to drift apart, until they finally separate. By strange chance, they both take the same steamer for a Southern port, and when the boat is rammed and sunk by another steamer, the two are cast away on a deserted island. Myrtle Gonzales who plays the leading role in this famous Broadway Star feature is considered the most beautiful woman appearing in the pictures.

The Selig company offers a one-reel comedy drama entitled, "The Auction Sale of a Run-Down Ranch," in which Tom Mix, the clever comedian, is featured.

"The Fable of the Statesman who Didn't Make Good," by George Ade, directed by Richard Foster Baker, featuring Harry Dunkinson and Frankie Raymond, is on today. This fable is like all of George Ade's writings just filled with good humor, the kind that is always appreciated. The admission price still remains the same five cents.

SCHOOLS AND EPIDEMICS

"No School Should Close on Account of Contagious Disease."

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 12.—The plan of closing school in case of an epidemic of some contagious disease is the old way of dealing with such a situation, and was adopted for the reason there was apparently nothing else to do. But, according to a bulletin recently issued by the State Board of Health, there is another way, a scientific and an efficient means, of dealing with an epidemic in school. This way does not close the school at all but uses the school as a most valuable aid in keeping the children under observation, that early cases may be detected and removed befort they become a source of infection to the other children.

"In case a school has no nurse or school physician," says the bulletin, "a physician's services can be secured for the daily examinations while the epidemic lasts and both parents and the health officer or quarantine officer, can be notified and the epidemic soon brought under control."

On the other hand, if the schools are closed when an outbreak occurs, the children are turned loose from supervision; they mingle freely with one another in the streets and in each other's homes; they are unwilling to admit they feel ill for the reason it will be the end of their good time and consequently when one does "come down" with the disease, usually it was not detected until he had infected his brothers and sisters and perhaps his playmates. Oftentimes, in such cases, the parents call the physician too late.

According to the bulletin, no school should close on account of contagious diseases. If the teacher is alert and the health officer on the job, an epidemic can be avoided or so controlled that there will be no loss of time on the part of the school as a whole. Not for four years has a school of New York city closed on account of an epidemic of a contagious disease.

COTTON MARKET UNSETTLED

Bullish Cables Temporarily Influence Rise Which Later Fails—January Closed at 11.78.

New York, Nov. 12.—The cotton market seemed to be only momentarily influenced by bullish cables and weather news early today, and after selling at 11.91 for January on the call, broke to 11.69 for that position under liquidation by recent buyers and a renewal of scattered pressure. Moderate rallies followed on covering, with January closing at 11.78, and the general list steady at a net loss of 1 to 3 points for the day.

Private cables attributed the firmness in Liverpool to continental buying and small Southern offerings, while the early weather map showed heavy frosts in Oklahoma with the official forecasts indicating that the cold weather was likely to spread over the belt. The market here opened barely steady at an advance of 6 to 12 points in response to these factors with December selling at 11.77; March at 12.12 and May at 12.21 on the call. It seemed, however, that this advance had pretty well exhausted the immediate buying power around the ring, and the market soon turned easier.

Talk of probable labor troubles in Lancashire and private crop estimates ranging well above the figures in circulation here two or three weeks ago appeared to stimulate the offerings as the market eased off and prices soon broke to a net loss of some 6 to 11 points. Subsequent fluctuations were more or less irregular but the market was somewhat unsettled by December liquidation with that delivery selling off to 11.57 while March touched 11.91 and May 12.05 during the later trading. Spot interests bought the December against sales of the later months and the ready absorption of the near month offerings, combined with predictions of bullish supply and distribution figures from the census bureau tomorrow probably helped the late rally of some 7 or 8 points. General business was comparatively quiet during the entire day. The private crop estimates published ranged from 11,950,000 bales including linters, to 12,000,000 bales, excluding linters as the growth of the season.

Futures closed steady:

WEEKLY REVIEW OF COTTON

Action of Market Regarded as Indicating Rather Better Division of Sentiment—Lower Levels.

New York, Nov. 12.—The action of the cotton market during the past week has been regarded in trade circles here as indicating rather a better division of sentiment. A continuation of the recent selling sent prices into new low ground for the movement during the earlier part of the week, but offerings became less active below 11 1-2c for January and the failure of a bearish private crop estimate to stimulate sellers after a break of about $9 per bale from the high records of the season, appeared to start rather active covering. Trade buying and reports of a more active spot demand contributed to the rally while it also seemed to be apprehended that the more recent war developments might interfere with European importations from India or Egypt and thus lead to an increased demand for American.

On the advance of about $2.50 per bale from the lowest, however, the buying became les sactive and the market during today's trading was rather nervous and unsettled with prices easing off from the best under renewed liquidation or scattered selling, which may have been partly inspired by talk of labor troubles in Lancashire, and the failure of bad weather reports to create a more general demand. Three private estimates of the crop were issued during the week, a traveling expert placing the actual growth of the season at 12,896,000 bales including linters, while a local firm estimated it at 11,950,000 bales including linters, and the representative here of English statisticians published an estimate of 12,000,000 excluding linters. The wide difference of opinion as to the size of the crop seems partly due to conflicting estimates of the acreage, some of the largest of the crop figures published being based upon a larger area than indicated by the preliminary estimate of the government. The talk of an improving spot demand had been more or less general and numerous advices have been received from Southern markets of a better inquiry from both exporters and domestic sources. A private cable received here early in the week reported that an international firm had again raised its estimate of the Indian crop, making it 6,300,000 bales including a carry-over of the 900 bales from last season.

WAR STOCKS STILL HIGHER

Market Yesterday Largely Repetition of the Days Immediately Preceeding—Optimism Increased

New York, Nov. 12.—In its technical and speculative aspects today's market was largely a repetition of the sessions immediately preceding. Trading again savored of the professional and was dull, except during the forenoon and in the final hour, when moderate activity ruled. Numerous specialties, including war shares, and like issues, were moved to higher levels and coppers, particularly American smelting, the second most active issue of the day, substantially supplemented recent gains. High grade railways and kindred investment stocks were irregular, when not actually reactionary.

Overnight developments, so far as they touched upon home affairs, furnished ground for increased optimism, especially as applied to industrial conditions. Demand for iron and Steel and other base metals in itself offered sufficient explanation for the strength of industrial securities.

Advances in automobile shares were accompanied by rumors of deals or combinations. Baldwin Locomotive advanced 7 1-2 to 123, Crucible Steel 4 1-2 to 78 and American Can 2 7-8 to 63 5-8. United States Steel rose 1 1-2 to 88 3-8, equalling its recent high quotation, and Anaconda one point to 88 establishing a record for that stock. There were 3 to 5 points gain in American Locomotive, Allis Chalmers, Colorado Fuel, Texas Company, Cuba American Sugar, South Porto Rico Sugar, and distillers securities, while United States industrial Alcohol rose 7 to 117. These gains were materially shaded in late realizing.

Union Pacific was among the few important railway stocks to show a net gain on the day. Bethlehem Steel closed at 443, up eight points.

Aside from general strength the bond market was featureless. Total sales par value aggregated $5,875,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Following an Early Bulge Market Became Quiet and Depressed.

New Orleans, Nov. 12.—The cotton market today, after an initial bulge, was quiet and depressed, although at the lowest trading months were only 5 to 6 points under yesterday's last quotation. The close was at a net decline of 2 to 3 points.

On the opening the market rose 11 to 13 points in sympathy with much higher Liverpool cables than due, but th lack of freezing weather over the northern portions of the belt discouraged buyers and prices commenced to sag. On the decline, considerable cotton bought yesterday was unloaded and short offerings increased. The active months were forced under yesterday's close.

Mill takings for the week were smaller than expected. This increased offerings in the afternoon, but the market was held steady by fear that effects of the cold wave might be felt in the belt tonight. This gave the market resistence to selling pressure although no real strength was displayed.

Futures closing: December 11.42; January 11.62; March 11.87, May 12.03; July 12.14.

Spot cotton quiet, unchanged, sales on the spot 130 bales, to arrive 2,445. Middling 11.38.

DUN'S BUSINESS REVIEW

No Slackening in Advance Foreshadowing Great Trade Development.

New York, Nov. 12.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

"In spite of the rapidity of the movement there is no slackening of the advance that foreshadows the greatest commercial development in the history of the country. Following many months of gradual recovery and adjustment to new conditions, progress has come with such a rush that a reaction is feared in some quarters; yet the economic position steadily gains in strength and seldom, if ever, has the situation so favored continued expansion. Business is no longer wholly dependent upon the war demands, the bumper crops, the widespread increase in production in the working force and in the power of the people to purchase having established the basis for an era of unexampled prosperity. There is, moreover the further and highly significant influence of abundant supplies of money for all legitimate purposes, while the arrangements for supplementary foreign credits augur well for the maintenance of the phenomenal movements in overseas commerce. Just how fully trade and industry have responded to the unusual array of stimulating factors is clearly reflected in the statistical gauges that always tell which way the current is flowing. Some of these, such as the figures of merchandise exports, pig iron output, bank clearings and railroad earnings, bringing to light achievements without precedent and to the list of remarkable attainments have been added those of unfilled steel tonnage and commodity prices.

"Weekly bank clearings $4,041,440,794."

ZEALANDIA SEARCHED WHILE ON HIGH SEAS

British Explanation Given State Department.

'Charge Barclay Explained that Vessel, Flying American Flag, Was Not Molested—Crew Mostly Germans, It Is Said.

Washington, Nov. 1.—An explanation of the recent search of the American steamer, Zealandia, by British sailors off Progreso, Mexico, was made at the State Department today by 'Charge Barclay, of the British embassy, who said the vessel was on the high seas at the time and not in Mexican territorial waters as had been alleged.

The Zealandia, Mr. Barclay told Counselor Polk, was anchored about three quarters of a mile outside the Mexican three mile limit and was boarded by a party from a British cruiser and searched for contraband, an admitted right of a belligerent.

As the ship was flying the American flag, Mr. Barclay said, she was not molested, although no document was found aboard to show her nationality or registry. These facts were reported to the British admiralty, and submitted to this government for any action it might desire to take.

The Zealandia carries a cargo of rosin, which is used in the manufacture of explosives, and is said to be manned chiefly by Germans. There were reports that she flew the German flag during the voyage from Penzacola, Fla., to Progreso.

phrases of "socialistic" and "paternalistic" in characterization of government ownership of vessels did not frighten him in the least. He added that the same criticism had been made of the parcel post law, the postage savings law, the rural free delivery law, the taking over of the Panama railroad and steamship line, the Interstate Commerce Commission law, the establishment of a Bureau of Marine Insurance and various other measures which the people would not permit to be repealed now.

mittee, an offer which the premier was compelled to withdraw when the time came to select the members of it.

Mr. Churchill expresses in his letter cordial agreement with the decision to form a small war council and makes nocomplaint regarding the decision not to include him recognizing the difficulties with which Mr. Asquith was faced. However, Mr. Churchill says he feels that he could not accept a position of general responsibility for a war policy without any effective share in its guidance and control and expresses his inability to remain in well paid activity.

ANOTHER GERMAN ESCAPES FROM ONE OF THE CRUISERS.

Despite Presence of American Marine Guard Around Two Vessels.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 12.—Despite the presence of American marine guard around the two interned German cruisers, Prince Eitel Friedrich and Kronprinz Wilhelm, another German sailor has disappeared. He escaped some time between 9 o'clock Thursday night and 6 o'clock this morning. His name is Tsiery and he was a fireman on the Eitel Friedrich. His absence was reported to Rear Admiral Beatty, commanding the Norfolk navy yard, at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Admiral Beatty immediately notified the Navy Department, the customs officials and the police of Norfolk and Newport News.

All steamers and trains leaving here tonight were under the surveillance of the police and customs officials. The missing German is described as being 25 years old, five feet, ten inches in height, and weighs about 135 pounds. He has blue eyes, a moustache and a goatee.

Admiral Beatty says he believes the man made his escape from the Eitel Friedrich by letting himself down the anchor chain and ship and dropping into the water. He believes he swam a considerable distance, got under wharves along the navy yard front until he reached the extreme end of the yard, where he is believed to have reached a swamp and made his way to the mainland and escaped.

NUMBER OF CHARGES ARE PREFERRED AGAINST M'CALL

His Dismissal from Public Service Commission is Asked

New York, Nov. 12. — "Misconduct in office, neglect of duty and inefficiency" are among the reasons given by the legislative committee investigating the public service commission, in a public statement tonight for its recommendation to Governor Whitman for the dismissal from office of Edward E. McCall, chairman of the public service commission of this district. Mr. McCall formerly was a justice of the state supreme court, from which he resigned in 1913 to become a service commissioner. In the fall of that year he was an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for mayor of New York against John Puroy Mitchell, the fusion nominee.

The committe, headed by State Senator Thompson, details specific charges but also makes numerous general accusations, among them that McCall has exercised his official power and influence for the particular advantage and benefit of certain interests and used time required in official business in "private law practice for hire."

MAKES BIG COLLECTION FOR AMERICAN MUSEUM

Herbert Lang Returns from the Belgian Congo, Africa.

Began Expedition in 1909 and Secured Over 100,000 Specimens of Animal and Over 6,000 Specimens of Bird Life.

New York, Nov. 12.—Herbert Lang, an explorer sent to the Belgian Congo in 1909 by the American Museum of Natural History as the head of an expedition to gather for the museum a collection of animal and bird life in Africa, returned here today. Mr. Lang said that the expedition had gathered more than 100,000 specimens of animal life, as well as over 6,000 specimens of bird life.

The expedition into the Congo, according to Mr. Lang, was primarily to secure a representative group of the Okapi, first reported as being in the Congo by Sir Harry Johnson in 1903. In this he was entirely successful, securing excellent specimens of the tiny deer, male, female and their young.

Of his total collection, about 20,000 specimens were large animals. He also said that he had secured a complete family group of the famed white rhinoceros, as well as nine lions, four elephants, three giraffes and a complete buffalo family. Other portions of the collection include smaller animals, specimens of their habitations and 800 snakes of about fifty species.

Despite the dangers of the jungle, Mr. Lang said that he and his party enjoyed excellent health all the time. To transport the specimens from the interior to the coast, a distance of more than 300 miles, the services of more than 2,000 porters, working in relays were employed. During the six years that the party was gone, only one fatal accident occurred, that being when one of his native hunters mistook a wounded lion for a dead one and was fatally clawed and bitten.

Mr. Lang, German subject, said he had no trouble with the Belgian or British authorities. His experience with the authorities for five years previous to the war gained for him a confidence that was not taken away when hostilities began. He was permitted to leave for the United States without even a passport.

QUASI-OFFICIAL MEETING TO BE HELD IN BEHALF OF PEACE

Meeting of Neutrals at Foreign Point Probably Before Christmas.

Washington, Nov. 12.—David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University and head of the International Peace Congress, recently held in San Francisco, told President Wilson today that a quasi-official meeting of neutral nations probably will be held some time before Christmas either at The Hague, Berne or Copenhagen to attempt to bring about peace in Europe. Dr. Jordan conveyed to the President a resolution from the peace congress urging him to co-operate with other neutrals in calling such a conference.

In a statement laid before the President by Dr. Jordan it was declared that as a result of recent missions to the governments of the warring nations it could be stated that, while the nations at war were not willing themselves to begin negotiations for peace, "there is nevertheless abundant evidence that those charged with the administration of the foreign policies of these nations would welcome or at least not oppose, affirmative action by a neutral agency to bring about a peace based on international justice."

Halifax, N. Captain Neil Hall, port warden, taking the main part of the fuse for further examination.

The fuse is composed of a compound of leather and rubber. It is believed that it extended almost from top to bottom of the hold and more of it is expected to be found as additional cargo is discharged.
